Nassar, Khru Hold Debate

CAIRO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev and President Gamal Abdel Nasser engaged in a public debate Wednesday on what is best for the Arab world. The Soviet leader then tried to smooth over the differences.

It was the first open break in the overwhelmingly friendly atmosphere that had prevailed since Khrushchev arrived May 9 to win friends in the United Arab Republic on a 17-day state visit.

In a spirited speech before a meeting of Arab labor union organizations at Cairo's City Hall, Nasser defended his dream of Arab unity as "a sacred goal." Under his thesis, Arab nations would unite under his leadership.

Scholars Ask Export Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of Republican scholars and businessmen recommended Wednesday an export-boosting program as the best way to curb the flow of U.S. dollars abroad.

The Republican Critical Issues Council, headed by Dr. Filton S. Eisenhower, charged that the administration had used temporary bookkeeping devices to make the international payments deficit look smaller.

The group has issued recommendations on a number of issues in the past but has no official tie with the Republican party.

Dr. Henry C. Wallich, economics professor at Yale who headed a council task force on the balance of payments, said his group was not opposed to many of the administration's temporary devices.

Chicago Mayor Pants Split

LIMERICK, Ireland (AP) — Chicago Mayor Richard Daley's tour of the old country came to a rip-roaring finish Wednesday. His trousers split as he was arriving for a civic reception.

The mayor was just getting out of his limousine in front of Limerick's Cruises Hotel when he felt a draft. He backed into his car with a sheepish expression, then emerged holding in his hand another pair of pants taken from his luggage.

Most of the official party did not notice the split because Daley kept talking as he made his way into the hotel. Then he dashed for his room to change.

Bird, Snake Firebug Team

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Firemen said a grass fire was caused Wednesday when:

A bird snatched a long gopher snake, but soon dropped it — on a 16,000-volt high power line.

The snake coiled around the line and then around a guy wire, which grounded the power line ,sending sparks crackling down the guy wire. Sparks started a fire.

Fifteen acres were charred by the blaze — in Elwood Canyon, 15 miles northwest of here—before firemen extinguished it.

Ducat Broker Nabbed In Fix

NEW YORK (AP)—The man who handles most of the tickets for the 17 Shubert theaters was arrested Wednesday, accused of hiking box office prices to nine Broadway brokers.

Although the brokers paid only 25 to 50 cents per ticket above box office prices, Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan estimated the total take for last year alone at $72,256. Ticket overcharges are known in the theater as "ice."

Stock Market Stages Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — An exceptionally strong rally by rails paced the stock market to a recovery Wednesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.83 to 820.11, still leaving it some 10 points below its historic closing high made this year.

The Dow Jones rails component, however, made an out-size advance of 4.42 to make a record closing peak of 206.32.

Volume remained at a sub-average 4.79 million shares compared with 4.38 million Tuesday.

County GOP Elects Kresge Chairman After Hot Battle

STROUDSBURG — Surviving an intensive power struggle, Harold Kresge was elected last night chairman of the Monroe County Republican Committee, beating back a determined bid for the chairmanship by B.K. (Ben) Williams, former chairman.

Kresge beat Williams by a 40-24 vote after his forces were able to prevent the 70 committmen and women from voting by secret ballot. As a result six persons did not vote.

Roberts Protests

Raymond Roberts, committeeman from Middle Stroud Township District, entered an official protest to the manner in which the election was held.

Roberts, who acted as Williams spokesman, maintained the rules calling for a voice or roll call vote could properly be suspended by a vote of two-thirds of those present.

Atty. Elmer Christine, who along with Atty. Phillip Williams acted as the Kresge-appointed parlimentarians, maintained the county by-laws made no provision for electing a chairman and the meeting was being conducted according to state party rules — which call for a voice or roll call vote.

Atty. Christine said the county committee is subordinate to the state committee and has no right to suspend the rules.

"This is the rule and let the best man win," Christine said.

Georgia Kresge, committeewomen from East Stroudsburg's Fifth Ward, said in objecting to the roll call vote, "When we can't have the right to have a secret ballot America is gone." The remark was greeted by applause.

After the showdown vote, Williams congratulated Kresge and pledged his support to the party. He was given a standing ovation.

Holds No Grudges

In acceptance remarks, Kresge said, "I will conduct the party in such a way as to bring it honor. I hold no grievance in my heart for anyone. The state committee will look upon this as an honorable meeting."

Until last night's election Kresge was a compromise chairman who was recognized by the county commissioners in January after the party wound up with both Parke Unangst and Hanford Cleveland claiming the post.

Williams Support

Williams had plenty of support before the election. Monroe County commissioner John Price, was on his bandwagon. James Gould from the West End also worked for him.

Atty. Edwin Krawitz and Roberts, both young GOP officials, threw their weight into the Williams camp.

The women were represented too in the week-long dueling for committeeman and committeewoman votes. Mrs. Mary Fontanella, loser to Parke Unangst in the recent battle for the state committee post, was joined by Mary Emma Teeter Garcia in the move to oust Kresge.

But it was just as hard a campaign for Kresge. Atty. Elmer Christine fired out letters seeking support for the chairman recognized in Harrisburg by Gov. William Scranton's office.

Joining Kresge were such stalwarts of past GOP campaigns as Mrs. Nancy Shukaitis and Olaf Pedersen, secretary and treasurer of the organization.

Early yesterday morning Kresge exhibited confidence in winning. He cited his committee gains in the primary election with the defeat of John Detrick, a political foe. Patronage secured by Kresge was a strong point in his favor.

Williams is from the Old Guard section of the party. Over the years he helped elect Judge Fred W. Davis to court district attorney, and assemblyman.

Former Sen. Montgomery Crowe also is one who went into office with a strong push from Williams.

Negro SS Agent Claims Frame-Up

CHICAGO (AP) — A suspended Secret Service agent asserted Wednesday he was framed by the government in a payoff case because he was going to tell of heavy drinking among agents guarding President John F. Kennedy.

Abraham Bolden, 29, the first Negro to serve on the White House Secret Service detail, was accused Tuesday of soliciting a $50,000 payoff from defendants in an alleged crime syndicate conterfeiting plot. Officials said Bolden's arrest was the first taint of its kind in the Secret Service.

A government prosecutor termed Bolden's statements "fantastic."

In denying the government charges Wednesday, Bolden said the government knew he was planning to testify before the Warren commission about what he said was the "over-all general laxity" of agents assigned to protect President Kennedy. Kennedy was fatally shot Nov. 22 in Dallas, Tex.

Bolden said he told James J. Rowley, head of the Secret Service, of the drinking incidents but no a[illegible] was taken.

He charged that agents drank heavily before and after tours of duty guarding Kennedy at Washington and Hyannis Port, Mass., Kennedy's summer home.

The young agent, who was assigned to the White House during periods in June and July of 1961, called a news conference in his home to make his statements.

U.S. Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan issued a statement expressing his confidence in the integrity of the Secret Service.

"Ordinarily, I would not dignify such fantastic allegations," Hanrahan said.

"The accuracy of these charges should be judged by the fact that the man who made them was silent about his observations from 1961 until after he was arrested. . ."

The arrest of Bolden in the alleged bribery case culminated a week-long investigation by his fellow agents. Officials said Bolden attempted to sell a secret investigation report to the counterfeiting ring last week, shortly after eight of its alleged members were arrested.

7-Plane Laos Air Force Fights Communist Horde

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Driven from the last footholds on the Plaine des Jarres, the neutralists have thrown in their tiny air force to try to slow the drive of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, Western military sources said Wednesday.

There are seven planes in action, all T28, single-engine, propeller-driven jobs furnished by the United States about a year ago. One Western source said this is the first time they have been put to use.

Such a small air arm cannot hope to do much against the several thousand Pathet Lao deployed on the battlefield 110 miles northeast of Vientiane. The planes aim for select targets.

Attacking Reds

Western informants said the planes have attacked Red Command posts, vehicles and troop concentrations caught out in the open. The T28s carry 500-pound bombs and each has two 50-caliber machine guns.

One source said the air strike are believed to have been effective. Pathet Lao broadcasts heard in Vientiane have protested the bombings.

Apparently, the planes were not used for close battlefield support when Gen. Kong Le's army was forced from the Plaine des Jarres and its strategic network of roads earlier this week.

A government communique Tuesday shed little light on the situation at the front except to say that the last neutralist positions on the plain had fallen to the Communists.

Kong held only a few pockets of resistance on the plain when he retreated Monday to Ban Khong, four miles southwest of Muong Phanh. That area, on the fringe of the plain, had been Kong's headquarters.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson sped home from Europe today under orders from the Johnson administration to address the U.N. Security Council on what the United States describes as the deteriorating situation in Southeast Asia.

A U.S. spokesman said Stevenson will deliver "an extremely important speech" to the council Thursday when it resumes debate on Cambodia's charges of aggression against the United States and South Viet Nam.

The speech will come at a time when Washington is gravely concerned by Communist military gains in South Viet Nam and Laos.

The decision to order Stevenson to cut short his stay in Europe was made by Secretary of State Dean Rusk in consultation with President Johnson, officials said in Washington.

The move was in anticipation of a major council debate on Southeast Asia involving a confrontation with the Soviet Union and other Communist delegates.

Rusk and Johnson agreed that Stevenson should take personal command of the U.S. role in the debate.

2nd Cuba War Declared

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—This was the date when an exile group said it would be fighting Fidel Castro's regime on Cuban soil, but an announcement Wednesday night by that organization did not mention specific attacks.

The announcement by Manuel Ray's revolutionary junta did say it is "satisfied with progress achieved" and that its ultimate plan is based on "dynamic warfare." It added that progress has been made in "mobilization of the people of Cuba around an insurrectional instrument" and that a "new independence war has begun on Cuban soil."

Wednesday is the 62nd anniversary of Cuba's establishment as a republic after the United States helped Cuba win independence from Spain.

Rogelio Cisneros, chief in exile of the junta, declined to say where Ray is. There have been rumors for days that he has reached Cuban territory. A latin-American diplomatic source in Washington said he had heard that Ray is in Cuba.

The junta announcement said, "Objectives have been attained, especially from a point of view of psychological warfare." It added, "There will be victory by the people, but not in the form of spectacular invasions."

Cuba, which has been protesting to the United Nations about U. S. surveillance flights over Cuba got a reply Wednesday. Secretary-General U Thant said he is studying means of averting a "further deterioration of the situation." The United States has said it will continue the flights to see that Cuba remains free of long-range missiles.

Reports and rumors of action against the Castro Communist dictatorship came from various quarters.

'Second War'

An unlisted shortwave station announced Wednesday: "The second war has begun. Plan Omega is in operation."

Prayer Approval Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Paul C. Jones, D-Mo., Wednesday urged adoption of a resolution, but not a constitutional amendment, upholding the practice of school prayers.

Testifying before the House Judiciary Committee, Jones denounced Supreme Court rulings banning required religious exercises in the schools. He asked the committee to write a resolution "telling the world this is a religious nation."

But he said he does not think a constitutional amendment is necessary. The committee has before it 146 proposals to amend the Constitution to overturn the court's decisions.

The author of one of the amendments, Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif., testified he has changed his mind. He urged the committee to keep intact the First Amendment's present guarantees of religious freedom.

Leggett said he introduced his proposed change just after the Supreme Court struck down Pennsylvania and Maryland statutes requiring daily Bible reading in every public school.

"I still wish the court had not acted," he said. "But since then the issue has been clouded and I think the best thing to do is to leave things as they are."

Leggett said he hoped the committee would not be "coerced" by the flood of mail patriotic organizations have generated calling for an amendment.

Blatt Ties Musmanno After Philly Vote Recount

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A court-ordered recheck of Philadelphia's 42nd Ward Wednesday gave Genevieve Blatt a net gain of 172 votes and brought her into a tie with Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno in their race for the Democratic senatorial nomination, according to the Associated Press.

Errors were first found in five divisions of the ward, giving Miss Blatt a gain of 72 and Musmanno a loss of 72.

Because of these errors, County Commissioner Maurice Osser ordered all the machines in the ward rechecked and another 28-vote error in Miss Blatt's favor was detected.

UPI Puts Blatt Ahead

United Press International, rival news service, put Miss Blatt ahead by 226 votes after the 42nd Ward check.

A UPI spokesman told The Daily Record the continuing discrepancy between AP and UPI totals was probably based on unofficial wire service totals from several counties where challenged votes leave total votes uncertified and unofficial.

500 Ballots Challenged

Besides the machine errors, Miss Blatt's backers challenge over 500 Philadelphia absentee ballots.

The State Supreme Court will hear arguments on their legality in its opening session in Harrisburg on Monday.

Meanwhile, the bitter intra-party struggle has prompted some Democratic leaders to suggest both Blatt and Musmanno withdraw and permit the organization to slate a compromise candidate agreeable to all factions.

Blatt Scoffs At Compromise

But a close Blatt supporter scoffed at the suggestion Wednesday. The backer insisted that Miss Blatt is determined to fight for the nomination as long as she can, even if it means lengthy court litigation.

"It could become a long, hot summer in the courts," said the aide.

No Candidate Yet

Already Miss Blatt's attorneys have filed suit in the Dauphin County Court challenging the election in the event Musmanno is declared winner.

The State Elections Bureau cannot certify any candidate for the fall ballot as long as even one ballot box is subject of litigation.

Rooney Named To Interstate Committee

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Fred B. Rooney was appointed to the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce yesterday.

The committee considers all legislation dealing with with commercial shipping and transportation, civil aeronautics, inland waterways, securities and exchanges.

The committee regulates interstate and foreign communications, the interstate transmission of power and all interstate oil, petroleum or natural gas compacts except on public lands. Matters of railroad labor, retirement are referred to this committee.

Congressman Rooney said:

"This appointment is a rare privilege and honor for a congressman who has served only 10 months in the house.

GOP Senators Want Weaker Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Republican senators insisted Wednesday that the leadership's compromise package of amendments still does not sufficiently limit the civil rights bill's ban on discrimination in employment.

After the second party caucus in two days on the package, some Republicans said they would offer changes, despite a claim by their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, that most doubts had been satisfied.

Dirksen told newsmen he expects some changes to be offered at a third caucus on Friday but he doubts that they will be substantial. Dirksen is the principal author of the package worked out by Senate leaders of both partes and Atty. Gen Robert F. Kennedy.

More Support

Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., told newsmen after the caucus he felt the package had picked up support for the bill. Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., said, "We are making good progress."

The caucus came before the Senate entered its 60th day of talk about the bill. The debate quickly became entangled in an hours-long argument over the impact on the measure's fate — if any — of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's showing in Tuesday's Maryland presidential primary.

Committee Votes Added $125 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara defended American planes and material in South Viet Nam as "the best equipment available for the unique task at hand."

And, as he tried Wednesday to refute charges that obsolescent planes in Viet Nam had caused the death of two U.S. fliers, the secretary received a firm vote of confidence from the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

$125 Million Voted

The committee, complying with a request of McNamara and President Johnson, added $125 million to the foreign aid bill to step up the war against the Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam. The committee vote was quick and unanimous—24 to 0.

The Foreign Affairs Committee acted while McNamara was testifying at a closed session of the House Armed Services Committee.

After the meeting, McNamara told newsmen that he had assured the committee that the equipment in South Viet Nam is the best available in three qualified ways.

Plane Choice

He said the equipment was chosen with regard to: "the enemy threat," "the capability of the Vietnamese to operate it," and "the effectiveness of it in operational requirements."

Asked if committee members were reassured, McNamara replied, "Yes, indeed."

This was echoed somewhat by the committee chairman, Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., who told newsmen: "I am behind the position of the secretary in the mittee was not finished with its prosecution of this war."

But Vinson also said the comquestioning of McNamara, and so could not decide yet about the accuracy of news reports that two American pilots were killed in South Viet Nam because their T28 planes were obsolete. McNamara will return to the committee Monday.

LBJ Okays Work On Super Jetliner

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson authorized two airplane builders, Boeing and Lockheed, Wednesday to go ahead with studies on the development of a supersonic transport.

Two engine manufacturers, General Electric and the Pratt & Whitney Division of United Aircraft Corp. simultaneously also were approved for contracts to develop engine parts and demonstrate their performance.

No contracts were let immediately, nor were any cost estimates offered. The big problem of how to split the development program cost of probably more than $1 billion was not mentioned.

The White House announced that Johnson had approved:

1. The tentative development program recommended by the recently appointed advisory committee headed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

2. The selection of contractors that had been proposed by N. E. Halaby, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency.

The White House announcement said the McNamara advisory committee had met four times, had interviewed chief executives of the major airlines and major air frame and engine manufacturers, and had issued a "first interim report" that:

1. The supersonic transport project is one of high technical risk.

2. Financial development, production and operation of the supersonic transport will require huge sums of money, will involve unusually heavy commercial risk, and will necessitate major participation by the government.

3. Despite the high technical risks involved, supersonic transports must show a potential over their lifetime to operate at costs and fares which equal or closely approximate those of future subsonic aircraft.

4. The six proposals submitted to the FAA failed to meet the established economic and technical standards.

5. It is necessary at this time to give special consideration to the characteristics of the supersonic transport that affect its commercial profitability.

Baptists Vote Down Unity Move

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. A(P) —Southern Baptists defeated a move Wednesday for closer ties with six other Baptist groups, including Northern and Negro conventions.

After 90 minutes of heated debate, messengers to the Southern Baptists Convention voted 2,771-2,738 against participation in a committee on North American fellowship.

The proposed committee could have been a means of promoting closer Baptist cooperation and more joint meetings of the seven conventions which get together here this weekend to celebrate their 150th anniversary on this continent.

The Southern Convention and the American Baptist Convention, the Northern group, are meeting separately now in Convention Hall.

Unit Vote Question

Wallace Could Win Md.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Maryland's Democratic leaders breathed a sigh of relief Wednesday, while Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace said he wishes there were more primary battles to be waged after the toughest of his challenges to a stand-in for President Johnson.

Wallace claimed he had proved his point by grabbing nearly 43 per cent of the Democratic vote in Tuesday's presidential primary.

But the forces of favorite son Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, who held Maryland for Johnson, said Wallace had only underscored the obvious and cashed in on emotion by showing that Maryland is a border state with a strong current of opposition to Johnson's civil rights bill.

Unit Vote Question

One question mark hovered over the outcome: Maryland's antique, court-challenged unit vote system. Brewster was ahead in the unit vote count, similar to the electoral college, on the strength of a 106-vote victory margin in Baltimore County.

Brewster captured 53 per cent of the vote, Wallace 42.7 per cent of a record Democratic turnout.

The count: Brewster 265,713; Wallace 214,029.

The rest of the votes favored an uninstructed delegation to the Democratic convention, and perennial candidate Andrew J. Easter.

Brewster Ahead In Units

Brewster was on top 99 to 72 in the unit vote count. But if the official canvass, about a week away, switched the Baltimore County outcome, the unit vote would favor Wallace, 86-85.

The system has already been discarded, on federal court order, in everything but the presidential primary. A hearing is due Monday on a move to extend it to the presidential poll, too.

"A majority of the white people in Maryland gave me their support," Wallace said. "That's far more than I ever expected."

About 17 per cent of Maryland's population is Negro.

"If I had know I would get this kind support I would have entered more primaries," Wallace said. "I wish I had entered California. I'd have run good there. Ohio and Illinois would have been other good ones to get in."

Wallace's earlier outings were in Wisconsin, where he captured 33.7 per cent of the Democratic vote, and Indiana, where he won 29.8 per cent.

Brewster said the Wallace showing wouldn't affect the civil rights bill now before the Senate, the major target of Wallace's harsh and hectic Maryland campaign.

Brewster accepted Johnson's telephoned congratulations pledged Maryland's convention votes to the President, and said the Wallace showing will have no significant impact on national affairs.

State News Roundup

Student Loans Start June 1

HARRISBURG (AP) — With the thermometer registering in the 70s, the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission announced it would open bids Thursday on new blades for its snow plows and graders in preparation for next winter.

Morse Attacks Scranton Delay

HARRISBURG (AP)—Otis B. Morse, Democratic state chairman, accused Gov. Scranton Wednesday of an "inexcusable" delay in appointing five new judges in Philadelphia.

"Gov. Scranton's failure to name five new judges in Philadelphia is doing serious harm to orderly judicial process in that major urban center," Morse said in a statement.

The judgeships were created by the 1963 legislature and Scranton was authorized last November to fill the jobs.

"The Scranton delay is only helping to build up a greater pile of court cases whose litigants have every right to expect the most prompt consideration of their special problems," Morse said.

Barbers Adopt $2 Haircut

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Union barber shops here announce a 25-cent increase in the price of men's haircuts—to $2.00.

The increase is expected to start in about six weeks, although no date has been set.

The announcement of the higher price was made by John J. Monachelli, president of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Pennsylvania League of Master Barbers. The league claims to represent 1,000 of the city's 2,700 barbers.

Some of the non-union shops now charge less than the current $1.75 haircut price.

Temple Raises Tuition $80

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. Millard E. Gladfelter, president of Temple University, announced Wednesday that tuition will be increased by $80 per year beginning this September.

In the undergraduate schools the annual tuition will be $920 for Pennsylvania residents and $1,020 for out-of-staters.

He said that only 2,300 of 9,000 students who applied for enrollment in the full-time undergraduate schools this September will be accepted, making it the largest freshman class in Temple's 80-year history.

Baptist Co-Op Gets Slum Aid

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. Leon Sullivan, pastor of the Zion Baptist Church, announced Wednesday what he termed the first "church cooperative investment" project in the eastern United States. It is the receipt of a federal grant of $1.3 million to aid construction of an apartment project on recently cleared slum land in North Philadelphia.

Jobless Claims Drop In Week

HARRISBURG (AP)- Claims for unemployment compensation decreased again last week, the Bureau of Employment Security reported Wednesday.

Continued claims dropped by 4,065 to a total of 129,404 for the week ended May 15. New claims totaled 18,646, or 1,605 less than the number filed in the previous week.

The bureau attributed the decline to people to work in construction, stone-clay-glass and apparel.

Adams Lauds Re-Training

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP — Arlin Adams, state secretary of public welfare, said this week Pennsylvania is developing a strong program for re - training workers to take semi-skillet positions in hospitals.

Workers displaced by automation can find worthwhile positions as practical nurses, technicians, and other non - professional hospital jobs, Adams told 175 business and educational leaders at the spring Industrial Relations and Management Conference.

The conference also heard discussions of trends and current practices in personnel management during the day long program, sponsored by Inter - County Hospitalization Plan, Inc.

Demo Women Back Johnson

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women pledged Wednesday "full support to the election of President Johnson to a full term in office."

The federation ending a three-day convention said it is confident delegates to the national convention will nominate Johnson.

The federation also decided to support civil rights legislation pending in Congress and to back the President's "war on poverty" program.

Blasts Causing Subsidences?

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Dr. H. Beecher Charmbury, state secretary if mines, informed a Wyoming Valley group Wednesday that he would investigate the possibility that strip mine blasts are causing surface subsidences in Plymouth.

Dr. Charmbury replied to a telegram sent to him Tuesday by the Citizens Committee for Effective Strip Mine Legislation asking suspension of strip mine blasts in Plymouth until the cave-ins stabilize.

The committee contends the blasts disturb mine roofs causing cave-ins.

There have been six cave-ins in Plymouth the past few months. Presently the borough's main street is closed to traffic because of a cave-in close to the street.

Railroader Sees Coal Comeback

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Allen J. Greenough, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, said Wednesday night central Pennsylvania's coal industry is fighting back to economic health and stability, and the PRR is standing shoulder-to-shoulder with it in the comeback.

Speaking to the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers Association, Greenough said:

"Your 1963 production was up nine per cent over 1962, and the first quarter of 1964 was nearly five per cent better than your first quarter of 1963, exceeding the progress made on the national level. Our railroad participated in your improved fortune."

He said the Pennsy's development of the unit train concept —moving train loads on fast schedules from mine to consumer at reduced rates—has been a vital factor in coal's resurgence as the two industries work together for their mutual benefit.

Greenough said "coal is the solid foundation upon which is built the economic structure of several of our very important states . . . it is indispensable to utilities, to steel production and other heavy industries.

Greenough noted that railroads carry 75 per cent of all coal produced, "by far the largest single commodity hauled by the rails, accounting for 25 per cent of the total tonnage of all railroads in the United States."

GSA Approves College Projects

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General State Authority Wednesday approved allocations for projects in these counties:

Columbia — Planning and design of two men's dormitory buildings, Bloomsburg State College, $141,528.

Tioga — Planning and design of a dining hall and kitchen, Mansfield State College, $58,638.

Turnpike Seeks Snowplow Bids

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's new college student loan program will be in operation by June 1 with some $4.5 million in state underwritten loans available.

Sen. Paul L. Wagner, R-Schuylkill, chairman of the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency, said that the agency has had a favorable response from banks throughout the Commonwealth which had been invited to participate in the plan.

The loans are limited to a maximum of $1,000 per year per pupil, with no more than $5,000 for any one pupil.

Trailways Bus Cafeterias Sold

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Frank O'Connell Jr., Kingston, has confirmed the sale of three cafeterias he has operated at Capitol Trailways bus terminals in Wilkes-Barre, Pottsville and Harrisburg.

The sale is to Bus Terminal Restaurants, Inc., Raleigh, N. C., a firm which operates 60 dining facilities in the East.

Sale price was not announced.

3 To Study Mansion Site For Scranton

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton named a special three-man committee Wednesday to study possible sites for a new governor's mansion now under consideration by the General State Authority.

Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, president pro tempore of the Senate, was appointed chairman of the site-finding committee.

Assisting him will be Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, and Gen. Milton G. Baker, commandant of the Valley Forge Military Academy and a public member of the GSA.

"I hope they can get this thing going as soon as possible, not for this governor but the next one," Scranton said.

The question of a new home for Pennsylvania's governors has been kicking around for decades. The state sold the building that housed 23 governors in 1960 for $85,500.

The present mansion at Indiantown Gap, some 20 miles from Harrisburg, has been in use since 1943.

Earlier this year the GSA rejected a proposal to construct a pent-house apartment for governors atop the new $18 million state office building now under construction in Harrisburg. Scranton's wife frowned on the penthouse idea as an unfit way to bring up children.

The GSA also authorized the sale of property along the Susquehanna River that had been purchased in 1941 as a possible mansion site. Sen. Taylor urged the sale on grounds the property, currently housing the state pardons board, was not suited for an executive residence.

In other action, House Minority Leader Anthony J. Petrosky, D-Westmoreland, suggested construction of a new state college in southeastern Pennsylvania to ease overcrowded conditions at West Chester.

Warren Group Clears Members

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission met for nearly three hours Tuesday and annouced that it had "unanimously cleared all of the members of its staff to handle classified information.

Presumably, this was a clearance for consultant Norman Redlich, who has been accused by Republican members of Congress of having been a member of a Communist-front group.

However, the statement issued by the commission did not mention Redlich. And J. Lee Rankin, the staff director, refused to answer any questions, even to say whether Redlich still held his job as $100-a-day consultant.

Under povisions of the Pennsylvania Motor Vehicle Code, a bicycle is classified as a vehicle and is subject to the same regulations as an automobile.

Lutherans Defeat Muhlenberg Appeal

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP) — The Eastern Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran Church decided Wednesday to give first priority to a major capital funds appeal for the Philadelphia Lutheran Seminary.

At the same time, efforts to tie a capital funds appeal for Muhlenberg College to the seminary appeal were defeated in the third day of the synod's annual convention here.

The seminary appeal, marking the 100th anniversary of the Lutheran graduate school in the Mount Airy section of Germantown, will pave the way for relocation of the institution to an unspecified site near Philadelphia's University City.

The planned fund appeal will run for three years. The amount of the appeal will be determined after the selection of the site.

The synod was informed of the purchase of a 3,000 acre camp site to replace the synod's three camps along the Delaware River, which will be flooded as a result of the Tock's Island water dam.

Bible Amendment

A request for an official endorsement by the synod of the Becker amendment to the Constitution to restore Bible reading and prayer in public schools on a voluntary basis was denied.

The committee on reverence and council advised the delegates of the officials stand of the Lutheran Church of America which opposes the Becker amendment.

It recommended instead a resolution which would empower the synod to request the Lutheran Church in America "to state the church's position as opposed to the so-called Becker amendment to the Constitution of the United States."

The delegates approved a 1965 synodical budget of $1,327,500, a four per cent increase over 1964.

Question of Bail

The synod delegates reached a stalemate as to whether the synod should be authorized to provide bail for members of the church jailed for participation in civil rights demonstration.

A resolution to this effect by the Rev. William E. Hershey, Lutheran pastor to students at the University of Pennsylvania and Temple University was referred to the committee on reverence and council on Monday night.

The delegates recommended that the matter be referred to a special committee on religion and race for further study.

Time Capsule Buried At New Penn Museum

HARRISBURG (AP)—Neatly flicking a trowel full of mortar, Gov. Scranton Wednesday placed a time capsule into the date stone of the new William Penn Museum and Archives Building.

"We are symbolically placing the final stone in a great structure which is a monument to that God-fearing man and to his ideas and beliefs," the governor said at the formal ceremonies.

The $9.2 million buildings, under construction since January 1962, are tentatively scheduled for opening Aug. 1.

A crowd of about 200, including state officials, lawmakers and visiting school children, attended the ceremony on the plaza of the five-story circular museum building.

Grimm's Tale Spun By Regional Group

By Peggy Bancroft
Record Correspondent

NEWFOUNDLAND—The miller's beautiful daughter who spun gold out of straw (according to her father) and who finally guessed the name of Rumpelstiltskin, had nothing on the teenagers who are members of the Greentown-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship, a Moravian and Methodist-united young people's group in the Poconos!

The local YF spun more than half a hundred dollars out of the dimes and quarters gleaned from the sale of old shoes, china bereft of matching pieces, lamps with broken legs, well-worn tricycles, a footed bathtub, a fur coat, circa 1920, and the cooperation and generosity of local residents who cleaned out attic and basement to aid the ambitious youngsters who have their sights set on increasing their gifts to the Methodist Youth Fund, the Moravian Mission Fund, the local scholarship fund, and other worthy causes dear to their hearts.

Ingenuity played an important part in the parallel to the Grimm Fairy Tale, where heaps of gold appeared from apparently worthless straw. The bathtub sold quickly, not for its original purpose, but for use on a local farm as a horse trough. The fur coat's less-than- fashionable style will not be obvious in its new use—as a seat cover for a farmer's truck, (both warm and soft!)

A bridesmaid's gown of emerald green velvet, worn once at a festive affair, was purchased for conversion to a party dress. A bright red house dress was bought without regard for size—by a champion rug-maker who thought the color would compliment and complement for product.

Many of the articles which had been discarded as children or adults outgrew them were passed on to others with children just the right size.

Books were a chief source of delight among the shoppers, who were waiting before the doors opened for the sale. Many of the books were for children—the favorite Bobbsey Twins and others. Their sale at 1/20th the original cost added up to a great deal of pleasure, the second time around.

Changing Hands, Needs

Many of the articles needed just a little fixing. Others were in good condition. Some were purchased for use in Summer cottages in the Poconos. Others went into immediate service in area homes. It was just a matter of changing hands and needs.

The rummage sale was the first venture of its kind by the YF. And it was so successful—a full day of real fun, in spite of tired feet; the sale of articles that could be used by others; and building up the treasury—that the group plans another this coming Saturday, same time, same place—in the store next to Cron's in Newfoundland.

Plans for the event were discussed during the meeting at the South Sterling Church Sunday night, during which time the candlelight installation service of new officers was held with the Rev. Denton Covert, Methodist minister, and the Rev. Larry Lindenmuth, Moravian minister, officiating.

As their names were called, the new officers came forward to the altar, carrying a Moravian beeswax candle. This they lighted, and then gave their pledge for service in their own particular office.

Officers installed were Connie Keiter, president; Elaine Hinton, vice president; Linda Price, recording secretary; Terry Voeste, corresponding secretary; James Carlton, treasurer; Donald Dickinson, junior layman; Kurt Krieger, reserve junior layman; David Dickinson and Margie Gearhart, sub-district representative; Melissa Burlick, faith chairman with the Rev. Mr. Lindenmuth as advisor; Wayne Croft, outreach, with the Rev. Denton Covert, advisor; Nancy Krieger, witness; Mrs. Jacqueline Croft, advisor; Gary Carlton, fellowship, advisor to be named; Kathy Smith, citizenship, Mrs. Peggy Bancroft, advisor. Mrs. Jane Colan, who is leaving the area for a year, will serve when she is able on weekends.

Dickinson Chairman

The group planned a hayride for the June social activity, and named Don Dickinson as chairman. A sub-district swimming party in July will be that month's activity. In August, the group would like to go to New City, N. Y., to return the visit of a youth fellowship from that area. Margie Gearhart, Jim Carlton, Elaine Hinton and Don Dickinson were named to the planning committee.

The YF will meet the second Sunday of each month during the summer.

Melissa Burdick will have charge of the May 24 program at the South Sterling Methodist Church at 7 p. m. The refreshment committee includes Nancy Krieger, Anita Croft and Ruth Ann Schoenagel.

PM High Uses Voting Machine

SWIFTWATER — A voting machine was used for the first time in the primary and general elections for Student Council officers at Pocono Mountain Junior-Senior High School May 7-14.

The Judge of Elections, Jerry Hanna, expressed the appreciation of the faculty and the students to the Commissioners of Monroe County for making the use of the machine possible.

The voting machine was doubly appreciated by the Election Board because of the closely contested election.

With 90 per cent of the student body voting, the office of president was won by only two votes. For president, Douglas Marvin defeated Joan Calhoun; for vise-president, Mark Mikels defeated Arthur Altemose; for secretary, Cathy Martin defeated Cathy Pisarski, and for treasurer, Russell Eggert defeated Gail Gravatt.

The Pocono Mountain Student Council won the office of secretary in the Region 9 elections of the State Association of Student Councils at the spring meeting held at Susquehanna. Representatives from Pocono Mountain attending the meeting were Susan Brong, Joan Calhoun, Gail Gravatt and the Student Council Advisor, Mrs. June P. Young.

JFK Plaque In Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A plaque in memory of the late President Kennedy will be dedicated at Independence Hall on June 29, Mayor James Tate announced Tuesday.

The mayor has been in Washington talking with Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy. He said the Attorney General and other members of the Kennedy family will attend the ceremony, which will mark the opening of the City's Freedom Week.

The plaque will be set in the sidewalk in front of the hall. It will commemorate the late President's visit here on July 4, 1962.

Reform Of Congress

Pennsylvania's Democratic Senator Joseph S. Clark wants to restore Congress to "vigorous, working, democratic health."

While many of his colleagues in "the Congressional establishment" insist that nothing is wrong, Senator Clark, now in his second six-year term, published yesterday a book entitled "Congress: The Sapless Branch."

Senator Clark is critical of many Congressional procedures.

Among his suggestions for improvement are more joint hearings by House and Senate Committees to save time on the same pieces of legislation, use of electric voting machines, an easier discharge procedure to force bills out of committees which pigeon-hole them, and Senate initiation of half the appropriation bills.

The most important proposal is a Congressional resolution committing House and Senate to vote within six months on any legislative proposal for which the President requests prompt action.

The need for such a rule has been made obvious by the recent delay of Congress on major legislation.

Many important bills were not passed last year when Congress went into a year-long slow-down strike against itself, the public and President Kennedy. Even basic business was not finished until after his assassination Nov. 22, much of it after Christmas.

The tax cut legislation, admitted by almost everyone to be wise and a boon to the nation's economy took more than a year to adopt. The civil rights bill now faces the longest Senate filibuster in Congressional history, after more than a year in Congress.

The President and the people of America have a right to Congressional action on major legislation within six months or at least within one Congressional session.

This does not and should not mean that every Presidential request and program should receive rubber-stamp approval in Congress. Some should pass. Some should be defeated. But all should be voted upon.

The routine business of Congress should be carried out with more dispatch and efficiency. The major questions of the day should be decided by democratic vote instead of stopped by powerful committee chairmen exercising a kind of "pocket veto."

How to bring about this Congressional reform?

Senator Clark believes "vigorous and open intervention" by President Johnson is essential. If Johnson is elected by a large popular majority, Senator Clark believes he will have a mandate from the people to carry out Congressional reform.

Civil Rights or Last Rites

National Park Hearings

Important hearings on the proposed Tocks Island National Recreation Area will be held in Washington on June 8 and 9.

This is your opportunity to write or speak in person for or against bills creating a 60,000-acre recreation area which will bring seven million visitors to the Pocono Mountains each year.

The Tocks Island National Recreation Area would be the first major public recreation spot in the Northeast. Almost all the big national parks and recreation areas have been built in the far west, far from the centers of population.

The Tocks Island National Recreation Area is ideally situated to attract and serve 20 million people within a 75-mile radius and 30 million within a 100-mile radius.

The hearings will be held in Room 1324 of the New House Office Building in Washington, D.C., by the Subcommittee on National Parks of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

People or organizations wishing to give verbal testimony should write Congressman Wayne N. Aspinall, chairman of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs and ask to be scheduled to speak on either June 8 or 9.

It appears that government witnesses will be heard Monday, June 8, and private citizens and groups Tuesday, June 9.

Verbal testimony should be limited to 10 minutes and should be a brief summary of any written statement submitted for the hearing record.

Written statements may be sent to Congressional Aspinall or to Congressman Fred B. Rooney in Washington with the request that they be included in the hearing record.

Now is the time to speak up. Public support, particularly in the Stroudsburg-Pocono Mountain area which is directly affected by the Tocks Island Recreation Area project is essential to passage of the legislation.

Comment Of The Day

"It cannot be denied that the Senate is responsible for putting Baker and others in places of responsibility without imposing upon them the enforceable standards of honesty and integrity the American people have a right to demand of their public servants."

—From a Senate Rules Committee report on its investigation of the business dealings of Bobby Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority.

George Dixon

Slow Service Excuse

By George Dixon

Don Ludlow, Washington correspondent of the London Daily Mirror, puts forth the proud claim of having been handed the ultimate in excuses for slow service in a Washington restaurant.

The other evening Mr. Ludlow took Frank Mitchell, chief of the British Information Services, and a couple of other London correspondents, to dinner at his favorite restaurant. We will let Mr. Ludlow recount, in his own inimitable style, what followed:

"I like this place because the service has been good, and the food isn't too terrible either. This time the waiter didn't even heave into sight for at least half an hour.

"My guests, some of whom are drinking blokes, were becoming pretty shirty. When the waiter finally appeared, I ordered a couple of bottles of wine.

"He was gone an ungodly long time. Then another chap, with a length of chain around his neck like a bloody medieval serf, came up and handed me a card about the size of a bill poster. He said it was the wine list, and he was the smeller, or something like that.

"Truth to tell I did think he sniffed a bit. Anyway, I chose a wine. It took him another half hour to produce it.

"There was still the matter of ordering food. Finally the first waiter came back and asked if we'd care to eat. I snarled an order.

"It was a good hour and a quarter before the food arrived. With it came the check, which was for $70—pretty stiff, I fancied. I am not given to feeding information blokes and other newspapermen at such prices.

"I went to the cashier's desk to pay the costly tab. The cashier is a woman, and I suspect, the owner of the place. I told her how the service had fallen off, and asked: 'What went wrong?'

"She then gave me an explanation that, I submit, borders on the unique.

" 'Oh,' she said, 'the chef left a goose in the oven and it exploded.' "

Senators, touched to the conscience by Senator Case, would begin acting like those culprits in the Perry Mason Show who suddenly crack for no reason at all, except that the show has only two minutes to go. The solons would rend their long togas—or short shrifts—and cry:

"I accepted the donation! I didn't know the donor wanted anything!"

The trouble is the Senators might get to like confessing, and keep telling all. This would never do because there are a couple of Senators we couldn't have unbosoming themselves. Also, there is this to think about:

Confession may be good for the soul, but not for the heel.

Ever since the big hullabaloo about you-know-what at you-know-where, White House correspondents have been receiving notes urging them to look up the 26th Chapter of Proverbs, 17th verse. It reads:

"He that passeth by, and meddleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears."

The Pennsylvania Story

Project 70 Tool

By Mason Denison

HARRISBURG — One of the least understood pieces of legislation to be considered by the Legislature this year is the Administration's bill to change Pennsylvania's existing Eminent Domain laws—a fussy-sounding piece of legislation but one that could be quite important to many a Pennsylvanian.

To be crude about it, Eminent Domain is the right of government or public authority to snatch your property for a government or public project; for a highway, school, park, etc.

If you don't want to go about it "peacefully," the State can condemn your land and you receive in remuneration what the State deems advisable to be a fair shake for your property. You can of course appeal the award to the court and perhaps gain a higher return—or perhaps a lower return.

That's nutshelling it pretty roughly.

As many Pennsylvanians have already found out sometimes to their individual grief, the Keystone State is building [illegible] 1700 miles of four-lane [illegible]erstate expressways. These [illegible]sing existing highway right-of-ways.

Land must be acquired to build these new roads, hence the State's right of Eminent Domain has come into play quite noticeably lately. More new roads are going to be built and many an existing road will be relocated — so will many people.

Project 70 is now going through the Legislature. This involves acquisition of tremendous acreage of Pennsylvania land now held in private hands. Here is another area—and unquestionably a most critical area—where Eminent Domain will play an important role (and perhaps individual role for you) in carrying out the project.

In the past many a small property owner has been caught with his land britches at half-mast in a host of ways when he suddenly found his land being gobbled up by the State.

Legislation now going through the legislative mill is designed to eliminate in great degree this half-mast stuff. To illustrate:

—For the first time all owners of condemned property would be entitled to receive their estimated "just" compensation within 60 days from filing of a declaration of taking. This is designed to eliminate the condition all too prevelant under present law whereby it takes so long for payment to be made (oftimes extending into years) that some eventually forgot they even have the money coming!

—For the first time too, the State would pay damage for effects of business dislocation; for example the village grocer who has to move will be compensated for the good will he has built up over the years with his customers.

—Another innovation would be compensation for moving expenses and business dislocation damages, even though he is not entitled to payment from condemnation itself.

—Still another innovation: for the first time the rights of the owner of a property will be protected against an agency or an authority which takes his land—and then attempts to resell it on a speculation basis. Under the new legislation now grunting through the mill, property which has not been improved will not be resold for three years after condemnation without the original owner having the opportunity to buy it back for the same amount he was paid for it.

Costly to the State? Sure—the Department of Highways alone estimates it will cost it between $11 and $15 million more a year under the more liberal provisions than at present!

Speaking of this legislation, Governor William W. Scranton said:

"Pennsylvania should start to give a square deal to the small property owner in these situations, and that is exactly what this new legislation would do."

(Okay Bill, we'll give up our little old private putting green!)

FIFTH IN A SERIES

Finally, there is the status of our entertainment.

Can anyone deny that movies are dirtier than ever? But they don't call it dirt. They call it "realism." Why do we let them fool us? Why do we nod owlishly when they tell us filth is merely a darting art form, that licentiousness is really social comment?

Isn't it time we recognized Hollywood's quest for the fast buck for what it is? Isn't it plain that the financially - harrassed movie industry is putting gobs of sex in darkened drive-ins in an effort to lure curious teen-agers (and some grownups, too) away from their TV sets?

Recently the screen industry solemnly announced that henceforth perversion and homosexuality would no longer be barren from the screen provided the subjects were handled with "delicacy and taste." Good Lord!

And we of the press are a party to the crime. Last year movie ads in the Tulsa paper got so salacious and suggestive that the advertising manager and I decided to throw out the worst and set up some standards. We thought that due to our ukase there might be some interruption in advertising some shows. But no. Within a couple of hours the exhibitors were down to the newspaper office with much milder ads. How was this miracle accomplished?

Well, it seems the exhibitors are supplied with several different ads for each movie. If the publishers are dumb enough to accept the most suggestive ones those are what they get. But if the publishers squawk the cleaner ads are sent down. Isn't it time we all squawked?

I think it is time we quit giving Page One to the extramarital junkets of crooners and actors, actresses. I think it is time we stopped treating as glamorous and exciting the brazen affairs of screen tramps. I think it is about time we asked our Hollywood and Broadway columnists if they can't find something decent and inspiring going on along their beats.

And the stage: They raided Minsky's and so Minsky's spread all over town. Bawdiness has put on a dinner jacket, and seats in the orchestra pit that used to go for six-bits at the Old Howard (Boston) and Nichol's Gayety are now scaled at $8.80.

Oh, yes. And we have lots of "realism." Incestuous Americans, Perverted Americans. Degenerate Americans. Murderous Americans.

How many of these "realistic" Americans do you know?

Several months ago an American touring company, sponsored by the State Department and paid for by your tax dollars, presented one of Tennessee Williams more depraved offerings to an audience in Rio De Janeiro. The audience hooted in disgust and walked out. And where did it walk to? Right across the street where a Russian ballet company was putting on a beautiful performance for the glory of Russia! How dumb can we get?

Viet Nam Plans

Paul Scott

WASHINGTON — At the same time President Johnson is asking Congress for $125 million additional economic and military aid for Communist-periled South Viet Nam, he also is deliberating two potentially far - reaching and diametrically opposite policies.

On one hand — the President is considering extending this gravely critical conflict with powerful air strikes at "privileged Communist sanctuaries" in adjoining Laos and North Viet Nam from which they are mounting their intensifying attacks.

Some 200 propeller - driven Air Force B-26s and Navy Skyraiders are being rushed to South Viet Nam for this possibility. This large reinforcement of light bombers is double the number officially announced. The plans will be piloted by Americans, with Vietnamese crewmen as they complete their training.

On the other hand — Secretary Rusk, with the President's approval, is sounding out Britain, France, Russia and Red China on a possible "political settlement" of the grim South Viet Nam problem.

Rusk is vigorously opposed to extending the war beyond South Viet Nam's borders. Supported by Undersecretary Averell Harriman, Rusk is advocating the convening of a Geneva-type conference to negotiate a "neutralization" agreement that would include Laos, Cambodia and South Viet Nam. The two State Department chiefs are willing to exclude Communist North Viet Nam from such an arrangement.

No decision on these momentous proposals is likely until the middle of June, when the build-up in light bombers and other arms has been completed.

The Pros and the Cons—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and the three service members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff strongly favor air strikes at the "privileged Communist sanctuaries" in Laos and North Viet Nam.

General Maxwell Taylor, Joint Chiefs Chairman, is withholding a recommendation pending additional intelligence reports on the strength and disposition of North Vietnamese forces massing on South Viet Nam's borders. Latest intelligence word is that they are now equivalent to two cambat divisions.

U. S. commanders in South Viet Nam, fully supported by Ambassador Lodge, are warning these large Red forces foreshadow imminent massive assaults against major South Vietnamese strongholds. They view the situation as "extremely foreboding."

In preparation for possible air strikes beyond South Viet Nam borders, President Johnson is having a study made of the need for congressional approval.

Administration and congressional authorities have divided opinions on that. Some hold a congressional vote is not necessary; others are advising it on both international and political grounds. They content the latter is particularly important in this crucial election year.

The President, in consulting bipartisan congressional leaders, disclosed he made a highly significant discovery in reading minutes of the National Security Council under the late President Kennedy.

These records revealed a definite decision had been made to employ U. S. troops to prevent Vientiane, southern capital of Laos, from falling into the hands of the Communist Pathet Lao. This fateful commitment is still in force.

It was agreed on at the insistence of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who warned that loss of Vientiane to the Reds would pose a dire threat to Thailand as well as South Viet Nam and that it would be necessary for the U. S. to employ its forces to save both countries.

In the President's discussion with the bipartisan congressional leaders, he gave no indication of his attitude regarding this momentous decision.

However, Pentagon authorities have formulated contingency plans for rushing U. S. troops to Vientiane and Thailand as determined by the National Security Council under President Kennedy.

McNamara, former Ford president, already has had private talks with Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers head, and has others slated with key motor manufacturers.

Dear Abby

Don't Be Petty

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Who is supposed to give the corsage on Mother's Day? The husband or the children? I married a widow, and on the first Mother's Day after our marriage I sent her a lovely corsage. Her son sent her one, too. (This happens to be the first thing this son of hers ever gave her besides trouble.) Well, she must have thought more of her son's corsage than she did of mine because she wore HIS, and left mine home in the ice box. I was very hurt although I didn't say anything, but the next year on Mother's Day I didn't send her a corsage and neither did her son. She was sulking all week. Do you blame me for not sending her a corsage after what happened to mine last year?

HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: Posies on Mother's Day mean less than understanding and love the other 364 days of the year.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26 years old and am in love with a married man who is 33. He married very young and has one child. I have been in love with him for six years and seven months. When I met him he told me that his marriage was all washed up, so I had nothing to do with his miserable situation at home. He says as soon as his little boy is able to take care of himself he will get a divorce and marry me. His son is in the second grade now. I get awfully tired of waiting, Abby, and I'm not sure I could ever love another man. Can you give me some good advice?

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED: Yes, lose him. The chances you're taking aren't worth the chance you have of marrying this man. And if you CAN love a man other than another woman's husband, you had better find it out—while you're still in the 20's.

DEAR ABBY: Speaking of names: I once heard of a woman who named her three daughters, Pearl, Sapphire and Onyx. The first had a skin as smooth and white as a pearl. The second had eyes that shone like two blue sapphires. And the third was "onyx-pected.

CARL ON BASSOON ST.

DEAR CARL: Thank you for your contribution to my collection of unusual names. Where were YOU when vaudeville died?

DEAR ABBY: In November of 1958 I wrote asking your advice about my husband, who cheated on me, beat me up and refused to take the responsibilities of a husband and father. At the time I had only one child. Today I have five and I am kicking myself because I didn't take your advice. You said, "Don't take him back until he has proved that he can stay away from other women, treat you with respect and hold a job." Well, each time I took him back I got pregnant. He continued to cheat on me and slap me around, pregnant or not. He also lost one job after another. How I wished I had listened to you. Print my letter to let other women know what can happen when they take a man back before he improves.

Speaking Of Your Health:

Doctor, I'd Like To Know

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My daughter is pregnant for the second time. She and her husband were just told that the baby, when born, will be an "RH" baby. They are both terrified. Neither one really understands what "RH" means, and they seem to be ashamed to ask the doctor to repeat the explanation he had given them. Can you enlighten all of us, and perhaps dispel our fears?

Mrs. O. R. T., Indiana

Dear Mrs. T.: Even to those well versed in the intricacies of blood groupings, RH factors can become confusing. Before undertaking the scientific explanation, it should be emphasized that modern obstetrics has progressed to the point where dangers to the newly-born RH baby are reduced to a minimum.

Excellent Chances

The chances for survival and good health are now excellent. When necessary, advanced techniques for immediate transfusion of blood in the newborn insure safety.

When any confusion exists about this or any other medical problem, patients must be adult enough to tell their doctor frankly that they do not understand the given explanation. For sometimes patients and their families are so tense that they actually misunderstand even the simplest explanation.

Origin Of Letters

The letters "RH" were chosen because the original studies were performed on the RHesus monkey.

All people have as one of their blood components an RH factor. Most people are RH positive. A few are RH negative.

A newborn baby will not be affected when the mother and father are both RH positive, or when they are both RH negative.

If the mother is RH positive and the father RH negative, the newborn baby will still not be affected.

Important Difference

It is only when the mother is RH negative and the father is RH positive that strict observation during pregnancy is important.

Then if the baby growing in the womb of the mother has inherited the father's RH positive factor, a complex phenomenon occurs that may produce anemia and jaundice at birth.

Rarely Affected

It is interesting to note that the first-born child is rarely, if ever, affected by the RH baby.

A scientific explanation may satisfy intellectual curiosity.

Potential parents of an RH baby, however, need also the assurance that this condition is today controllable with safety and without any permanent effects on the growth and health of the child.

While Dr. Coleman cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Stories Behind Words

Dog Days

The Romans noticed that the period from about the first of July to the middle of August was the hottest of the year.

Astronomers had noticed that Sirius, the brightest star in the sky, rose with the sun at the beginning of this period. It was reasoned that the bright star added its heat to that of the sun, accounting for the extreme heat.

Since Sirius was known as the "dog star," the Romans called the period "caniculares dies" — dog days.

Even though we know that Sirius does not intensify the heat of the sun, we still call the period "dog days."

Eastburg To Act On Master Plan

EAST STROUDSBURG — A comprehensive master play calling for a 20-year capital improvement program costing $1,945,000 without tax increases will be acted upon by the East Stroudsburg Borough Council at its June 2 meeting.

The plan — in the works for over a year — is the final requirement the borough must meet to be eligible for federal urban renewal money.

Prepared by the East Stroudsburg Planning Commission with Candeub, Cabot and Associates of Scranton, the plan calls for implementing the 20-year program with no increase in the present 17-mill real estate tax.

A master plan is a guideline for future development and growth. It will not be enacted into law by the council but merely accepted as a possible way to meet future demands on the borough. Later councils may follow or ignore it.

The information is contained in two documents.

1. The comprehensive plan.

This report contains such information as the borough economic base and population analysis, existing land use analysis, building conditions analysis, neighborhood analysis, land use plan and urban renewal plan, major thoroughfare and parking survey and plan and community facilities survey and plan.

2. The capital improvements program. This contains an analysis of the borough's present and future tax structure capital improvements required and plans for financing the capital improvements.

According to the plan, the borough's population will rise from 6,972 to 7,300 in 1970 and 8,000 in 1980.

In an analysis of neighborhood growth the plan points out that by 1980 the borough may have to build an elementary school in the College Heights section.

The planners anticipate that yearly tax revenue from real estate will jump from $148,300 in 1964 to $175,000 in 1969. They expect this added money will be sufficient to pay for suggested improvements.

Among improvements recommended are a new combined borough offices and police headquarters building, a new fire station in the Crestview section, replacing the Bridge St. bridge with a wider structure, numerous street improvement projects and an improved water distribution system.

When adopted, the comprehensive plan will be the eighth planning commission-sponsored proposals required by the Federal urban renewal program.

The other seven are a zoning ordinance, plumbing code, building code, fire prevention code electrical code, housing ordinance and sub - division ordinance.

SU Board Approves 2 Resolutions

STROUDSBURG — Resolutions to convey land to the Stroudsburg Area School Authority and to amend the lease between the authority and Stroud Union School Board were approved by the board at a joint meeting last night in Stroud Union High School.

The board will convey the deed for property to be used in the proposed construction of an addition to the high school to the authority. The authority, through the lease, will authorize the construction, pay for it, and charge rent to the district.

No bids for construction were made last night.

Howard Merring, president of the authority, said, "We will not award any contracts for construction until the money from the bond issue is realized."

5 Teachers Resign

During the meeting of the board, which followed the joint meeting, resignations of five teachers were accepted and three teachers were hired.

Letters of resignation were from Gordon Taylor, Thomas A. Barrow, Gerald J. Heckman, Mrs. Lois E. Heller, and Mrs. Jean I. Lee.

Hired were Miss Judith T. Wells, a French teacher, at a starting salary of $4,700 a year; Mrs. Myrtle Denning, as an assistant librarian, at a starting salary of $4,700 per year, and Miss Louise M. Kreeger, an elementary art teacher, at a starting salary of $5,200 per year.

The board also approved homebound instruction for Brenda Lee Klinger.

Baymor Treasurer

John Baymor was elected treasurer of the board for the 1964-65 school year.

The board included on its agenda a request for action on a salary schedule approved by the committee of the whole board. However, action was postponed until a later date.

Gypsy Moth Air Spraying Halted By High Winds

STROUDSBURG — Gypsy Moth spraying in the Blue Mountain area from Delaware Water Gap to Wind Gap — was halted yesterday because of winds up to 20 miles per hour, Arthur Jeffrey, a supervisor in the state's bureau of plant industry, said.

"If the winds die down and the weather is good we will complete spraying in the Blue Mountain area today. Then on Friday we will move into Pike County to complete the spraying in the northeastern area of Pennsylvania," Jeffrey said.

He continued, "The planes will start operating today at 5:30 a.m., providing the winds are not against us."

Bee Colonies Moved

"Many bee colonies have been moved from the area but I do not have an accurate account of this as many owners transported their hives to other locations," Jeffrey continued.

"I do know that 12 colonies in Northampton County were moved, and that many owners moved their hives. We have moved none in the Bushkill area but some nine owners have moved their hives. In Pike County some 14 hives have been moved," he concluded.

Henry F. Nixon, director of the Bureau of Plant Industry, in Harrisburg, yesterday said, "In conjunction with the spraying, and on a volunteer basis, teams from Pennsylvania's Fish and Game Commissions, and the State Department of Health are conducting a monitoring program.

"The teams have made checks of the areas to be sprayed before the spraying took place. They are in the area now making tests, and I have been told that they will wait a reasonable time and then make more tests. I do not know what they mean by a reasonable time.

"The program of the Fish and Game Commissions will determine what, if any, damage has been done to the wildlife and fish. The Health Department is studying the effects, if any, on the personnel mixing the chemical and those flying the spray planes.

"The health department is also studying the effects, if any, on water. Water that finally finds its way to reservoirs and then to humans for consumption.

"As you can see everything is being done to make this program as humanly safe as it possibly can be.

"This I can promise you. When the program is completed and all the data connected by the various teams making tests a written final report will be made. We will not hide anything. We will give the public the facts, and I will see that The Daily Record is sent a copy of the report."

On Tax-Free Land In Jackson

Danker: Some Charitable Groups Not So Charitable

REEDERS — The president of the Jackson Township Taxpayers Assn. yesterday accused some charitable organizations of not being very charitable when they buy tax-free land in the township for investment purposes.

Robert A. Danker said his group has urged the Monroe County Board of Commissioners to take immediate action and place the five summer camps in the township on the tax rolls.

He said more than 400 of the township's 555 residents have signed a petition asking the commissioners to place all non-taxable camps on the tax rolls at the same assessed valuation as all other taxable real estate.

To Explore

Commissioner Stuart Pipher attended an association meeting Tuesday night in Reeders and told the Jackson taxpayers every avenue will be explored in an effort to have the summer camps taxed.

Danker said the camps own more land than they use in their actual camping activities. He said Jackson taxpayers want the commissioners to place an assessed valuation on all property and buildings owned by the organizations.

He said the township is now the site of Camps Akiba, Streamside, Golden Slipper, Cherith and one owned by the Presbyterian Church, with the prospects of two new ones opening up this summer.

He said he didn't know who owned the camps but was sure it was charitable organizations.

"We are just overloaded with camps," he said.

Danker said failure of the camps to pay taxes has forced Jackson residents to pay the highest school tax in the county. The school district real estate tax now stands at $50 on every $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Pipher has promised the present board of commissioners will hold hearings on two township camps that were exonerated from paying taxes by the previous board.

Atty. J. Joseph McCluskey of Stroudsburg, the association's lawyer, told the Tuesday meeting that placing the camps on the tax rolls will probably involve a court battle.

Danker said Camp Akiba had been paying taxes until last year when the camp's owners refused to pay because the four other camps were enjoying tax-free status.

He said this year's tax money from Akiba has been placed in escrow and the courts will decide if it should be paid to the taxing agencies.

Strike At M-E Still On

STROUDSBURG — The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (I.B.E.W.) are still on strike against the Metropolitan Edison Co. Pickets maintained lines at East Stroudsburg and Easton M E offices yesterday.

The strike stemmed from 15 days of unsuccessful apparent hospitalization benefits disputes between the utility company and I.B.E.W. Union. This is the first strike in the utility's 81-year history. Picketing will continue on a 24-hour basis until an agreement is reached.

Stephen Stoyko, executive board president of Reading Local 803 of the I.B.E.W., maintained yesterday that the chief issue was not a pay boost.

"We offered to drop one cent an hour off each man's wages and have it applied to our hospitalization medical plan," he said. "That would total about $27,000. We wanted the company to contribute about $8,000 to the $27,000. They wouldn't do it. That was where negotiations broke off."

He pointed out that all plants were operating smoothly and that some 700 supervisory personnel and non-union workers are maintaining all operations.

The Easton plant provides service for Stroudsburg, Delaware Water Gap, Bangor, Portland, Nazareth and Bath.

The strike notice in the apparent hospitalization benefits dispute was served by Ralph L. Cone, Utility 9 System Council president.

County Planning Budget Discussed By Commission

STROUDSBURG — The Monroe County Planning Commission has appointed a committee to draw up a tentative budget including a professional county planning director.

At a meeting Monday night in the office of Russell L. Mervine, county solicitor, Ralph Reppert, Chester Miller and Montgomery F. Crowe were named to a budget committee headed by John Mills, chairman of the commission.

"The proposed budget will be submitted at the next meeting, discussed and possibly adopted by the commission. If it is adopted, it will then be presented to the county commissioners for their approval," Mills said.

Donald DeOtte and Joseph Lisicky, executive secretary of the commission, reported on a meeting Monday morning with Pike County commissioners on possible two-county cooperative planning.

They said The Pike County commissioners would not appoint a county planning commission until all 14 municipalities appoint local planning commissions. Nine of 14 now have them.

The Pike County commissioners were interested in a Tocks Island regional planning council, Lisicky said.

Baptists Ponder Civil Rights

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A Baptist committee urged on Tuesday the blotting out of all racial lines within the American Baptist Convention, but a New York minister said that white people are not ready for the "Negro revolution."

In a policy statement for the Northern Baptists, a three-man committee from Chicago urged participation of Baptists in civil rights demonstrations and support for civil rights legislation.

The Northern Baptists grappled with racial issues in the first full session of their annual meeting at Convention Hall here. Southern Baptists, meeting separately, will consider a strong stand against discrimination later this week.

The pastor of an integrated church, Dr. Howard R. Moody of Judson Memorial Baptist church in New York, agreed that the American Baptist policy statement "tells us what we ought to do."

Husband Of S-burg Woman Boasts Of Educational '1st'

SEOUL, Korea — Captain Ronald E. Philipp of Headquarters, Eighth U.S. Army Support Command, in Seoul, Korea, came to his assignment here well prepared.

Since entering the Army on July 4, 1956, Captain Philipp has been either a student or an instructor — or both — for most of his career.

The 32 - year-old Regular Army officer capped his educational effort this year when Columbia University awarded him a PhD degree in mechanical engineering on January 24.

He began studying for his doctorate while assigned as an instructor in the Department of Ordnance at the United States Military Acedemy, West Point, N.Y., from 1959-1964.

"The work on the dissertation was completed under the Degree Completion Program and represented the first time, to my knowledge, that the Ordnance Corps approved such a program for a PhD," said Captain Philipp.

The subject of his dissertation was the synthesis of linkage systems and was entitled, "On the Synthesis of Two Degrees of Freedom Linkage Systems for the Maximum Number of Precision Positions."

Captain Philipp's education efforts began long before he entered the Army. He earned a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering in 1954 from Lafayette University, Easton, Pa., and was commissioned a second lieutenant of Ordnance through the university's Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

In 1956 he was awarded his Master of Science in mechanical engineering from Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., had came on active Army duty that July 4.

Since entering the Army, he has attended the six-month Ordnance Officers Basic Course as Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md.; the two-month Automotive Maintenance and Repair Officers Course at Aberdeen, both in 1956; and the six-month Ordnance Career Officers Code at Aberdeen, 1962. He was integrated into the Regular Army in 1961.

In his assignment at EASCOM, Capt. Philipp will be able to make full use of both his military training and the educational discipline of his civilian schooling.

He arrived in Korea March 6 and is assigned as Ordnance Maintenance Officer in the Materiel Division, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Supply and Maintenance, "a title," he laughs, "that is nearly as long, if not quite as complicated, perhaps, as my PhD dissertation."

Capt. Philipp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl H. Philipp of RD 1, Brass Castle Road, Phillipsburg, N.J. His wife, Barbara, and their three-year-old daughter Barbara Jane presently reside in Stroudsburg.

Sworn In

HARRISBURG (AP)—Morton H. Fetterolf Jr., former House majority whip, was sworn in this week to succeed the late Sen. Henry J. Propert, R-Montgomery.

Fetterolf was elected to succeed Propert in a special election April 28.

Administering the oath of office was Judge James S. Bowman of Dauphin County Court. Fetterolf restores the Republican majority in the Senate to 27-22 with one other vacancy still to be filled.

Dr. Appel Takes Part In Parley

NEW YORK — Dr. John C. Appel of 189 Fairfield St., Stroudsburg, attended the 61st annual conference of the Middle States Council for Social Studies last week.

At the session eight officers were inaugurated for two-year terms. The council's theme is: "The Space Age: Fission of Fusion."

General Olbert Lassiter U.S.A.F. spoke about "The General Role of the Air Force in the Space Age."

Other business discussions took place at the New York World's Fair. The 100 delegates arrived there by bus, and met in the newly completed auditorium of the Hall of Education.

Dr. Raymond Polin spoke about: "Is Man Ready for His Responsibilities in Space?" A discussion followed which included panelists from various educational institutions in the country.

Shirley Ann Fenner

Miss Fenner Wins Award For Acting

CORNING, N. Y. — Shirley Ann Fenner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weston H. Fenner Sr. of Brodheadsville, recently won the Steuben Trophy for best performance at the New York State Festival in Corning, N.Y.

She is a graduate of Pleasant Valley High School in Brodheadsville and Syracuse University.

Since her graduation she has played on the professional stage in more than 50 productions, at the Fayetteville Country Playhouse where she was a member of the resident company for six years.

During the winter season she is active with the Syracuse Civic Company. She has been employed in Syracuse Area High School as a teacher of English and speech for five years.

In private life she is married to Professor Gerald Reidenbaugh, director of dramatics at Syracuse University. They have two children.

Fire Phone Proposal To Council

PEN ARGYL — The Fire and Water Committee of Lookout Fire Company last night told Jack Krogulski, a representative of Commonwealth Telephone Co., they would take his offer of a new telephone system to call firemen back to council for final action.

Krogulski met with members of the committee, line officers of the fire company and firemen representatives to council to discuss the new system.

He told the meeting that the system makes use of the normal lines and can handle 10 phones on the circuit. Also that with an unlisted number, available to all firemen, three more persons could join in the conversation.

The cost of the system is $30 per month with a flat $75 installation charge. Also the contract is for three years — a minimum contract.

Krogulski gave the following brief explanation on how the system works.

10 Phones Ring

"When someone dials a listed fire company number to report a fire, as many as 10 telephones will ring simultaneously. The ring would come over the firemen's present telephone, providing it is a private or two party line.

"Should a fireman be talking on the line when the call is originated a tone is heard on the line. The fireman, by hanging up momentarily and then picking up the phone, can immediately be connected to the fire call.

"Any or all the firemen on the 'fire call system' can sound the siren from his telephone by merely pressing a button on the phone. The only time the button is operative is when the fire circuit is activated.

"For the fireman not at home, but is able to hear the siren there is a special feature. A special unlisted number is available to all firemen. All they have to do is dial this number and they automatically become a part of the network."

He told the meeting that this was the first offer to any fire company in the Bangor District of the telephone company. He also mentioned other fire companies in the district to be contacted at a later date with the same offer.

The companies are: Rescue, Liberty, and Second Ward, all in Bangor; Roseto Fire Company, Roseto; East Bangor Fire Co., East Bangor; Mt. Bethel Fire Co., Portland; Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co., Saylorsburg, and the West End Fire Co., Brodheadsville. Also the Blue Mountain Control Center in Wind Gap.

June 10 Bids

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General State Authority will open bids June 10 on installation of new electrical facilities at Retreat State Hospital.

The project includes construction of a new electrical system in the main patients' building and adjoining wings.

LIVING ROOM

Lowest price in town on a suite with all these features—nylon frieze cover, foam cushions with zippers, hardwood frames, full flexolator construction. Our customers and friends (they're both the same) are very wise buyers. They know that a little bit of extra quality goes a long way in a living room so we don't sell too many of this lowest priced suite. But that still leaves us with two 3 piece suites in beige and turquoise. The lowest price in town becomes even lower. Reg. $199 for a sofa and two chairs. Now just $139—for all 3 pieces.

The picture was beautiful, but we still didn't order the sofa because the style seemed a little bit way out. Then we saw it in person at the furniture show and just couldn't resist it. And you know, we were right in the first place, the doggone style just doesn't sell. Maybe we just didn't put the right cover on it. Who knows? In any event, you can save a $100—on this Rowe quality modern sofa, a full 91 inches of comfort and style with plump reversible pillow backs, durable rust colored cover. You don't even have to supply the answer as to why it didn't sell. One sofa reg. $259—just $159.

It always happens. We have heard from many people how they would like to have a modern high back living room as comfortable as the colonial styles. So we went out and found what we thought was the perfect answer to this need. Then, of course, after we had the suite, nobody but nobody asked about it. That leaves us with one Nelson 2 piece living room suite in beige frieze that is the most comfortable, cushiony soft modern high back suite you can find. Reg. $419—Maybe at $309—we can find one of the persons who asked us about this kind of suite before we actually had it.

Mysteries, Mysteries, Mysteries. Is buying furniture a mystery to you? We know it is to a lot of people. That's why we try so hard here at A. C. Miller Furniture to answer your questions and let you know what the relative advantages of different types of furniture are for you. We aren't interested just in selling but in fitting your needs in the best way possible. That's the best type of selling anyway.

One of the most common questions asked about living room suites has to do with the filling of the cushions and the differences between polyfoam and foam rubber cushions. Most people wonder if both types of foam are equally durable. It's no longer necessary to ask the question at A.C. Miller. All foam cushions on living room suites, whether polyfoam or foam rubber, are guaranteed to keep their shape or the core will be replaced. This is a guarantee from us and the manufacturer. The reliability of today's foam filling allows us to make this guarantee.

The color of this 2 piece suite is supposed to be beige. If you ask us it's anything but beige. So we'll call it one caramel colored 2 pc modern living room reduced from $219 to $149. Good wearing nylon frieze cover. When you get it in your home you can play a game called "Name the Color" and give prizes for the most original answers.

This is our television suite. A plain standard modern style made up in the finest Zimmerman nylon frieze. Why is it a "television suite?" Because people often tell us they want a living room suite that will withstand the onslaught of a dozen kids (their's and the neighbor's) and still give decent wear over the years. And of course since it's going into a television room, it shouldn't be too expensive. Well here's the suite that fitted this need. We buy this living room in solid truckloads of one style (it's easy when you have four stores to spread them out); we get a terrific price on a cover and construction that is as good as you can get. An dthe price is very inexpensive when measured by the years and years of wear and abuse the suite will take. The regular price is $309—for a sofa and 2 chairs, $239——for a sofa and 2 chairs. We have two suites in a material which was just discontinued. The price on these is only $229 for 3 pieces. Beige or brown only with turquoise for the third piece.

A brown sofa and a blue chair? Yep that's what we ended up with. We know that usually 2 piece suites have the same color sofa so you can have this modern nylon frieze sofa and chair with zippered foam cushions for just $99.

At the other end of the colonial price range, we also have a sofa bed and rocker with maple finish arms at just $95—for the 2 pieces. Was $139. The best we can say for it is that it's cheap and it wil help fill a living room.

We have two French Provincial living room suites in an avocado damask cover that are identical. Why two suites exactly the same? Because the factory insists on sending us the wrong color. We ask for sage. We get avocado. Thinks finally got straightened out, though. But we do have two suites that the factory would like us to sell. They have made it worth your while to take a look. Two piece French Provincial living room suite, lavishly fruitwood trimmed, foam backs, foam T-cushions, self covered decks. All this only $168 for sofa and chair. Two suites only to sell.

DANISH LIVING ROOM

Ordinarily for $159—we'd tell you you couldn't get too much wear from a 3 piece suite. But with the kind of fillings, construction and frames you get on this walnut framed Danish suite, you'll get more than your money's worth in wear. The best part is that $159 is the regular price. Now you can buy this floor sample 72 inch lounge, high back chair and regular chair for just $99. Seat and back cushions on all pieces are solid foam, reversible and can be zippered off to change the covers if you'd like. Colors are persimmon and brown.

This is our best selling Danish sofa. Over the last year we've probably sold a dozen of them. The sofa has a beautifully styled walnut frame and is covered in a blue stripe material. It's about time we change the floor sample and show some of the newer fabrics available. So you can now buy our Hillaire best selling sofa at just $95, regularly $139. We hope you like blue stripes because it's just the floor sample at this special price.

We've got a Danish reclining chair which requires a little bit of manual dexterity and coordination to operate correctly. It's got five reclining positions and sits quite comfortably in each postion. You work it like this—There's a button on the side which you push down. Then you slide forward or backward with your body. Then you—Oh heck. Come in and see the chair. If you think you can work it, you can buy this recliner and ottoman for just $45. Regularly $79.

We've been selling a lot of Danish style furniture. So naturally we've been looking around at some of the newer pieces which are brought out. Last December we saw something new that looked like a real winner. The group has curved wooden arms, comes in several style sofas and chairs. We ordered it, put on our floor and nothing happened. We're still selling Danish but not this. Come in, take a look and tell us why. We'll offer you a good reduction for your sales analysis. One sofa in coral regularly $129—now $75. Matching chair reg. $64.95—$35. Green sofa regularly $109—now $60.

BEDROOM SUITES

Just close your eyes and think of this. A three piece bedroom with 56" triple dresser, plate glass mirror, large chest and panel bed. All dust proofed and center guided drawers. Formica tops that are almost an inch thick, solid core sides that are an inch thick. Very heavy construction so that a 3 piece suite weighs over 400 pounds. Does all this sound good to you at $259? Well now, open your eyes and you'll find why the price has been reduced to $158. The style of the suite is kind of like a mixed green salad. A little Italian Provincial with a colonial feeling topped off with traditional handles and a marble pattern formica top. It's seasoned with a darkish fruitwood, salem maple, walnut grain finish. Maybe the person who designed this bedroom couldn't make up his mind so he tried a little bit of everywhere. In any event you can get a terrific buy on a well constructed bedroom suite that should give years of wear and use. Just put it in a dark bedroom. All 3 pieces reg $259, now $158.

This we just don't understand. A well styled Danish walnut bedroom by Bassett that has been decorating our floor too long. The contempory style is good. The finish is one which is today's most popular. We even sold all the night stands we had but nothing else. A good buy at $269—(we sold lots just like it in our other stores). A real steal at just $195—for 60 inch triple dresser, mirror, chest and bed.

Contemporary walnut 4 piece bedroom of excellent quality. Very expensive hand detailed cut-out design on drawer fronts and bed. Big triple dresses, mirror, chest, bed and nite stand. It's no use asking $449—for all the pieces (we already tried that). So we'll settle for $310.

We'll be glad to roll this Heywood Wakefield maple bedroom right out of the store into your home. It's got wheels attached to the triple dresses and chest. To make the trip easier on your wallet we'll reduce the price to $329 from $419 for the 3 piece suite.

Bassett's Captain's Collection has been featured in many of the leading magazines and has been sold successfully by hundreds of stores. The suite is styled from British campaign chests, has formica tops and is finished in post oak. We're sure most boys would be proud of it. But we haven't been able to find any captains who want to add to their collection. so we're cutting the price way down to buck private levels. Double dresser, mirror, chest, bookcase bed and nite stand regularly $319, now $220.

The salesman who sells us this suite calls it his "big bomber." To us it's only been a big dud. A large triple dresser with deep curved doors on each side, shadow box mirror, extra large chest with doors, bar bed (nope, no drinks, it means the top of the bed extends out over the nite stands), and 2 nite stands. Golden bisque finish. We had this suite in our window where it was admired by many people, none of whom you could afford the regular price of $549. Come back, some of you, and you can have it now for $350.

Another gold bisque suite, styled like the one above with shadow box mirror, fancy fixtures and gold trimmed. The original price is much lower just $283 for triple dresser, mirror, chest, nite stand and bookcase bed. However we have one floor sample in "as is" condition (slightly damaged to you) that you can have for just $200.

Solid cherry, our heads must have been solid cherry when we bought this bedroom suite. The idea sounded good, though. A solid cherry dresser and mirror to sell for just $132. A solid cherry chest to sell for $74.95. The price was right, the quality was excellent. The only thing wrong is that the style just doesn't seem to be right for people who want solid cherry. A bit too plain, perhaps. We sold every bed we had but not one dresser or chest. So we have 4 double dressers and mirrors, 4 chests and 2 nite tables. You can buy any of these solid cherry pieces for half price. 50 inch double dresser and mirror just $66. Chest just $37.50. If you want to make a coplete suite, we'll be glad to order a bed for you. They're just $39.

Bassett open stock bedroom in a contemporary mahogany finish. The suite was brought out last July, sold well off our floor. Bassett then advertised this same suite in a half dozen national magazines in October and for some logical (?) reason, discontinued the doggone style in November. We now have one complete suite, bookcase bed, double dresser and mirror, chest and nite stand. The open stock prices add up to $230. If you'll take the whole shebang the price will be $160.

One of our cheapest bedroom suites, but one which will give years of use and durability. We used to be afraid to sell bedroom suites in this price range, because you can be sure we aren't interested in selling merchandise which will not give the proper amount of wear. Our firm would not have prospered for almost fifty years if we weren't vitally interested in delivering full value. This bedroom suite has one of the best looking finishes you can find. It's all plastic and requires only a damp cloth for cleaning and will resist spills of water, coffee, nail polish or what have you. The drawers are double center guided and are strong enough to stand on. Sound like a lot of bedroom suite? It certainly is. For $129 you can buy a 54 inch double dresser, tilting mirror, large chest and bookcase bed in grey mahogany finish. If you want smaller pieces, a 38 inch single dresser and mirror, chest and bed for just $89. Don't let the price fool you. You can get an awful lot of looks and wear for very little. Our experience of handling and selling these bedroom suites for over 6 years guarantees this.

BEDDING AND BEDS

Odd mattresses. No, not odd looking, it's just that we don't have any box springs to match these, so they become odd mattresses. Therapedic extra firm double size mattress, quilt top, damask cover reg. $49.50. $32. Sealy Golden Sleep smooth top, medium firm, heavy 8 oz. cover. Reg. $44.50. $29. Just one of each.

Complete Hollywood bed. Box spring, mattress, set of legs and plastic headboard just $46. The best we can say for this set is that you can sleep on it. Of course, if you don't want to be bothered too much by guests, you can put this in your spare room. Twin size only at $46.

We have two Sealy single size sets which we think Sealy must have been ashamed of because they just won't make this anymore with the Sealy name on it. We sold a lot of these at $75—to people who were looking for a soft mattress, but we still have two 39" sets. Sealy single size spring and mattress, smooth button free top, regularly $75, 2 sets only now $50. That's just $25. for the mattress and $25. for the box spring.

The U. S. Patent Office is kept busy protecting the Springwall mattress patent. Springwall mattresses have the most advanced design available today, an edge protection available only in Springwall. Although this design has been copied by every other leading mattress manufacturer, none has been able to copy it exactly, because the Springwall design is protected by exclusive patents. Normally you would pay from $59.50 to $899.50 to get a mattress with genuine Springwall comfort. But once a year a special model is made to sell for $39.88. Quantities are limited. For the most comfortable $39.88 you've ever invested in a mattress, come in and try this one now.

Quilt top mattresses are the most popular type available today. If you're looking for a quilt top single size set and prefer your bedding a bit to the soft side, we have 39" box spring and mattress for just $55 for both pieces that's made by the manufacturers of Serta bedding. And if you're prefer a complete Hollywood bed, we'll throw in some legs and a headboard for just $4.95. That's less than half the regular price of the headboard. (We're being overrun by single size headboards.) A complete quilt top Hollywood set for just $39.95.

DUAL PURPOSE SOFAS

Hide-away bed sofas are so heavy that our delivery men hope we never sell any. They've been very disappointed because we show and sell more hide-away beds than any other store in the area. In fact they're going to be even less happy, because at classified sale price we ought to sell even more. Here are a few of the styles you find at A. C. Miller Furniture. Brown hide-away bed sofa. Just $159. One red Eclipse sofa with excellent quality mattress. Reg. $229. Floor sample only $180. These are covered in nylon frieze and have solid foam reversible cushions. When you open it, out pops a full size spring and mattress. These have the perfect combination of looks, sitting comfort and sleeping comfort.

Sealy sofabeds are among the sturdiest made. They have a special double spring construction that makes for longer life than you will find in any other sofabed. Yes, Sealy sofabeds are among the sturdiest made, but honestly, they don't know how to style at all. This is the only reason we can think of why the two we now have are still with us. Sealy's extra sturdy construction usually carries a much higher price than ordinary sofabeds. Right now you can buy these two Sealy sofabeds at ordinary sofabed prices. One in charcoal, one in beige, reg. $135—now $90.

When we talk about sofabeds, what we mean is a sofa which has 72 inches of seating space on which you lift the front, the back then drops and you pull forward to make a flat sleeping space. Practically all sofabeds have a compartment underneath to store bedding. We say "practicaly all" because we have one which doesn't work this way and also doesn't sell as well as the regular sofabeds. This one is armless, has no bedding compartment and doesn't sell very well. We have one in a brown tweed cover which is regularly $69.95 and is now just $49.

One gold vinelle plastic sofa bed. You can sit on it, sleep on it, wash the cover if it gets dirty. If you won't pay attention to the fact that this one is an "as is" floor sample, we'll cut the price from $129 to just $85. One only in gold.

Business is better than ever at A. C. MILLER Furniture. If you're in the market for any item for your home, it will pay you to find out the reasons why. There's more interest in your needs and your satisfaction at A. C. Miller. There's more to see at A. C. Miller Furniture than at any other store in the area. Always on our floor you'll find at least 30 bedroom suites, 40 living room suites, almost 200 chairs, 35 dinettes, hundreds of tables, lamps, mirrors, etc. And backing up this tremendous variety of styles, there are two warehouses full of stock for delivery of fresh merchandise to your home. Whatever the style or price range, you will find it's worth your while to check with A. C. Miller Furniture.

DINETTES

Antique white wrought iron 5 piece dinette. Fancy scroll work on the table and chair legs. Gold vinyl covered seats and backs. 36x60 extension table in gold and white formica. This set has scared most people away at $129. If you appreciate this type of style, we're sure you'll get used to it in your home at just $75.

A good solid dinette with big 36x60 table and 6 chairs in chrome. No fancy fixture, but it's sold well with us at its regular price of $69. We have ten of them and that's just too many right now. If you want to assemble the sets yourself (that means putting the legs on the table and the seats and backs on the chairs), you can have a sturdy 7 piece chrome dinette for just $49. Don't feel up to assembling a dinette yourself? Then the price will be just $55 and we'll set up the dinette for you.

When you stock and sell as many dinettes as we do, there are bound to be several which just seem to find a permanent place on our display floor and settle there for a comfortable old age. (Anything which we have longer than four to six months is ready for Social Security.) Here are a few which we're ready to pension off.

5 piece bronzetone dinette, tan Naugahyde covered chairs with a fabric that looks like cloth. Tan marble formica top. Reg. $139—now $80.

7 piece chrome set. Black Naugahyde covered high back chairs. White background table with black design. Reg. $119. Just $85.

Red and white chrome set with six chairs. In our basement Budget Center. Reg. $89—now $59.

5 piece high styled dinette in bronzetone. Chairs that look like folding chairs but aren't. Reg. $159—now $90.

Are you sociable? Do you like company? Well, here's the dinette for you. It's so big you can have the whole neighborhood in for coffee at one time. The table is 3½ feet wide and 7 feet long. There are 8 well made chairs (you can probably get three or four more chairs around the table if you want.) All this is regularly $180 for the 9 piece set. We have two sets now that will be only $140. The savings buys an awful lot of coffee.

Got a big family but you don't want to spend $140—for a large size set? In our Budget Center, we have a 9 piece set that comes in chrome or bronzetone with 3 feet by 6 foot table and 8 chairs for just $79.— Not real fancy but certainly very serviceable.

Small set. Small price. 30x48 non extension table and chairs. Black tube chairs. Price cut to a tiny $28.88 for all five pieces.

DINING ROOM

Maple finish colonial dinette. This sold regularly for just $99 for the 36" round table and 4 mate's chairs. The color is a little bit to the reddish side and the table only opens to 48" inches with the one leaf. And that may be why this hasn't been too popular—a case of being too small and not the popular salem maple finish. Just one floor sample set only table and four mates chairs. Reg. $99—As is $58.

Set of 4 extra heavy captain's chairs. Reg. $27.95 each. If we could get a table to match, these chairs would still be the regular price. But the color is a rather deep brown and there is nothing on the market quite like it now. The price comes way down from $27.95 each to $12—each for a very comfortable captains chair.

Table, 3 chairs, and buffet and hutch in modern walnut. Why there are only three chairs, we'll never know. One got lost in the shuffle somewhere. The regular price of the table and 4 chairs is $125—; The regular price of the buffet and hutch is $115.— You can have the floor sample with one chair missing for only $150 for all the pieces, table, 3 chairs, buffett and hutch. If you want four chairs, we'll be glad to get one for you. It will only cost $17.

Basic Witz makes some of the finest dining room furniture. But several years ago, they changed the color on one of the modern walnut suites they make. There have been 4 dining room chairs here ever since then. It's time to find a home for them. Reg. $19.95 each. You can buy the whole set of 4 for just $25.

RUGS AND CARPETS

Too big to throw away. Too small for the moths to bother with. We have 27x18 sample rugs, all in qualities that would be $9.95 a square yard and up. Some of the patterns are nice, some of them are downright horrible. You can take your pick of any of these 27x18 samples for just 59c. They're perfect for in front of chairs, as doorways, or on stair landings.

From Lees, two 27 inch by 12 foot runners that would be worth $30 or more at their regular square yard price. Lees, however, cuts up their carpet remnants and makes them up to sell in runners for just $14.95. We've sold lots at this price, but these last two certainly aren't going to sell at anywhere near this. Why? One is purple and the other's an off white shade. For $5.00 we're sure someone can find use for them.

Most people have the idea that foam backed carpets are necessarily poor wearing. We've spent a great deal of time explining that this is not true. As in all kinds of carpets, there are good foam backs and cheaper foam backs and that a foam back carpet does save the cost of a pad. We've decided, though, that all the explanations are not worth the trouble, so every foam back carpet in our stock has been greatly reduced. We hope at the sale price, long winded explanations won't be necessary. Here are a few of the carpets. 12x15 Dupont 501 Nylon, one in bronze, one in blue. Heavy scroll pattern. Reg. $159—now $110. 12x18 Dupont 501 Nylon in hunter green reg. $189—now $128. Reg. $89—9x12 501 nylon in vivid blue, now $58. 9x12 avacado green continuous filament nylon Reg. $79. now just $48. 12x12'6 Green tweed wool and nylon just $76. These rugs all have foam backs and will give superior wear.

Cheaper hall carpet just won't give satisfactory wear, in particular if it's used on stairs. We always aim to please and we know our aim won't be so good if we continue to sell this type of carpet. So out it goes, never to be replaced. Just 2 rolls left of 27" hall carpet. One in a light all wool reg. $2.75 yd. now $1.40 a yd. One in grey all wool reg. $3.29 a yard now $1.75. We'll be happy to sell these carpets to you at low sale prices if you'll remember they're guaranteed for only 10 years, that is, they're guaranteed for 10 years as wallpaper not as carpet.

LAMPS

Lamps are many times the bane of the existence of a furniture store. You need lots and lots of them to properly stock a store. (We probably have over 200 different styles. There are really too many to count. Styles change so fast and so often, it makes your head spin. Sometimes the only way to divest yourself of excess stock is to take your lumps and force a smile. Now's the time. We're taking our lumps on lamps, but the smile isn't forced. Check our stock. You'll find many table, floor and pole lamps priced at ¼ to ½ their regular price. And even at these price levels, we'll be happy to see them go out.

Special group of table lamps priced regularly $6.95 to $12.95. Now you can take your choice of any one at just $4.88. Some are just singles. Some are just two of a kind. You'll find modern, traditional and colonial styles all at the one low price of $4.88.

CHAIRS

For the early bird shopper, we have several chairs we're sure will go every fast. One is a tan easy chair with reversible foam cushion seat and back. There's a foot stool to go with it, too. This has got to go! $20 for the chair and stool ought to do it. Contemporary modern chair by Selig. Turquoise color regular $109. Tan slim arm chair, reg. $109. As far as we can figure, these chairs have been in the store almost four years. They've got to go! You can take your choice of any one of them for just $20. Only one per customer. We might as well make three people happy instead of just one.

Huge comfortable swivel rockers haven't been selling because people want big comfortable recliners. Luckily, we only have two left. One in green, one in brown with reversible foam cushions. Reg. $109— now $75.

Yesterday's bargain becomes today's problem. These glove soft vinyl swivel rockers looked like a real bargain at their original price of $37.95. They're a bargain no longer because they're still here. Maybe you'll think they're a bargain at their reduced price of $27. Swivel rockers vinelle covered in coral, gold or green.

TABLES, DESKS, ETC.

Do you know how much dusting there is to do in a furniture store? Multiply what you have to do in your home by a hundred times and you'll know what our problem is. We have some odds and ends in tables which we are mighty tired of dusting (and sometimes we forget to do it at all). If you'll take some of our dusting problems into your home, we'll really make your labor worthwhile. For example;; a maple finish coffee table, regularly $10.95 just $2. Two blonde step tables with scalloped tops. Reg. $29.95. Just $10 each. One Lane walnut end table with drawer. Reg. $34.95 now just $19. One antique white French Provincial commode table. Originally $59.95. Now $16. takes it away. Mahogany coffee tables with mar and heat proof high pressure tops, regularly $14.95 now $6. Solid maple commode table. Reg. $49.95. Now as is $15. These are just a few. Come in. Take a look around. There are lots more.

One French Provincial desk that has been just about as popular as King Louis during the French Revolution. It's got a marble formica top and fruitwood finish, shows a little wear and tear, and sells regularly for $67.95. If you're a Francophile and enjoy a bargain, it's yours for just $30.

Ordinarily our manager is a very patient fellow. (We have to say that—he may read this.) But when he sees these Italian Provincial end tables, all he does is turn red in the face and shout, "Out! Out! Out!" Why he gets so unhappy, we're not sure, but we are sure these tables can make someone happy at their sale price of $15 each. We have two step tables, 2 commode tables with drawers, and two coffee tables, each with marble pattern Formica top, each in Italian Provincial finish. Reg. $34.95 and $37.95, they're now only $15.

JUVENILE

We don't have the answer. Baby bathinettes just aren't selling. We have three good styles which always used to be popular. Two are hard tub models, a deluxe at $31.95 and a standard one at $26.95. Then we also have the Spartan model with plastic tub and fabric top at $19.95. They've been with us too long. Who knows? Maybe babies are just going dirty these days. In the interest of juvenile hygiene and our inventory, we're closing out all bathinettes. Reg. $31.95 just $21.88. Reg. $26.95 just $18. Reg. $19.95 marked down to $12.

Wetproof innerspring crib mattress. We wouldn't call this a really good mattress, but it certainly is worth more than the $6.88 we're asking for it during our Classified Sale. Come in, take a look at it and the other mattresses we carry by Kantwet. We've got a special on most of them.

SUMMER FURNITURE

Gliders are selling better than ever. That is cushioned gliders are selling better than ever but aluminum gliders with web straps are a drug on the market. We haven't even bothered to count up exactly what we have, but we're sure we have three or four single seat gliders and the same number of double web gliders. Take 'em with you, set 'em up yourself and you can buy the gliders for the price of a good folding chair. Single seat gliders just $9. Double gliders just $13.

In innerspring chaises, a little extra money goes a long way. We learned this lesson a long time ago and since then have only carried Bunting brand innerspring chaises. They aren't at all expensive. You can buy one for as little as $24.95 unassembled. That may be a little more than the cut rate type you see around. But the heavier frames, the Nachman knot tied innerspring cushions add up to years of extra wear. We know many people who get at least 8 years and up to 15 years wear out of Bunting outdoor products. There's no other manufacturer who can touch that record. Bunting cushioned gliders also start at a low $39.95 complete with their new ball glide construction.

Just 3 lonely folding chairs, and one lonely folding rocker. That's all we have left from last year's outdoor furniture. The chairs will go for just $2.75. The rocker for just $7.

My gosh!" If you've read this far, you certainly deserve some kind of reward. We've got a few glass tid bit dishes (about 132 of them) which aren't bad looking, have 3 sections, can be used for candy dishes, relish trays or ash trays. They're shaped like a leaf and would fit nicely most anywhere. We don't know why the sales talk on this item because we're not selling them—we're giving them away- Just bring in this ad and we'll be glad to give you one. Adults only please. Just one per family.

Cy Barrett Says

Attractive Voices

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

DEAR CY:

"You almost didn't get your job because you talked in such a scratchy voice during the interview. Try to speak in the low tones you are now using and you'll be more attractive." I came here to do a job, not to be lectured by the office manager with her old hen talk. Don't you think she has a lot of nerve telling me this?

HARRIET

DEAR HARRIET:

Bless the old gal for being both a job and beauty counselor! I don't know of 10 women, in other than the performing arts, who employ their voices to the attractive utmost. The human voice should reflect inner thoughts but usually breath is metered through a throat constricted by tension. Altogether different impressions are conveyed by sputtered words.

Through proper use of breathing apparatus and speaking mechanisms, a woman can radiate inner beauty and create confidence. Even the power of enthusiasm is choked by nerves which cause listeners to cross their arms and reel back in chairs. Today's woman accumulates good grooming ideas, manners and job techniques. She pays scant attention to elocution, speaking either lazily or, just as often, like a stereo record run at the wrong speed.

Employers, other employees and could-be-husbands respond more to relaxed feminine tones than to a tight knit dress. Squeezing the life out of a full-bodied feminine voice is disastrous in business as pleasure.

CY

DEAR CY:

When I buy advertised food bargains, am I really toting bargains home? Girls in our circle tell me no and that the shopper has to keep trying for the most she can get when shopping for groceries. They say prices advertised for foods are often higher than everyday prices for the same items.

BARGAIN MARY

DEAR MARY:

Stanford university recently conducted an extensive survey on advertised grocery store specials. It stated: "In the great preponderance of cases — 92% of all 1,546 observations of specials — the price of the item was lower in the stores that advertised it than those that did not." Instances of advertised specials being above the standard price were reported as "rare." Tell your girl friends, Stanford just shot down their excuse for stealing those shopping carts.

CY

DEAR CY:

Sometime before the New York World's Fair closes for 1964, I intend to pack my wife and small fry in the family bus and see the exhibits.

After viewing the Hall of Free Enterprise and the Hall of Education plus a hundred other displays, the little guys should understand our American business and culture. We like to camp out with our trailer, as it saves money. Besides, we love the outdoors. Do you know if there will be any campsites on the World's Fair grounds?

A TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER:

New York City's health code (Article 137.03, if the kids demand proof) prohibits camping or trailer sites within the city limits. There are sites, however, in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts, and New York State.

Address inquiries to the departments of conservation at the state capitals. Titles of the departments vary, but you should get satisfactory response. As some camping areas are four or five hours' drive from the fair grounds, you may wish to know about accommodations and rates in New York City. If you want, I will see that you get a free copy of the Fair's Hotel and Motel guide. P.S. And that goes for other readers and their small fry, too!

Wake up rarin' to go without nagging backache

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain—you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. For convenience, ask for the large size. Get Doan's Pills today!

Scout-A - Rama Scheduled Tomorrow At Hill Meadow

STROUDSBURG—A roster of units participating in the Scout-A-Rama sponsored by the Pocono District Boy Scouts of America has been completed. The units will be responsible for the booth exhibits which open tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at Hill Meadow Stables, one mile west of Stroudsburg on Route 209.

Additional displays and demonstrations will begin at 7:30 p. m. following the greetings by John J. Pentz, district chairman. Pageantry, skits and narration will display the abilities learned by the boys during the past year.

Victor Hoehne, district commissioner, said the show was not only a progress report on what the boys have learned, but also planned to point up the importance of Scouting for all boys. He also noted that the show is planned to close at 10 p. m.

The closing time was noted due to the unique ticket sales. Tickets are sold one to a family, enabling all members of a family to attend, including small children. Hoehne said younger children would enjoy the show, but not if it ran too late.

Discussing highlights of the program, with assistant commissioner John G. Stark, the men agreed that the opening ceremony with nearly 300 boys participating was a highlight. Stark also said the Roman Chariot Race with boys from Troop 87 of First Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church was another feature.

The men agreed that the Cub Zoo Parade would appeal to the youngsters in the audience and adults would find it amusing. The zoo will be composed of real and imaginary animals. Real animals will be played by themselves. Imaginary animals will be played by members of Pack 90, Wilson Fischer American Legion Post of Pocono Pines and Pack 84 of Cherry Valley Methodist Church.

The booths, displaying sassafras tea making and paper bag cookery, among other intriguing abilities, will be open for display and samples between 6:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., along the midway. Art work will be displayed at the Cub Scout booths. Leaf printing, handmade name tags, potato printing and bottle cap puppets are included for booth display. Guests will be urged to participate in the booth offerings.

Cubs of pack 85, Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co., will be joined by Pack 81 of East Stroudsburg Methodist Church and Pack 84 of Cherry Valley Methodist Church for the booths.

During the Theme of the Month display, Packs 84 and 85 will be joined by members of Pack 88 of the Salvation Army; Pack 86 of Stroudsburg Methodist Church and Pack 101 of Pleasant Valley Elementary PTA.

Camping demonstrations, communications and pioneering will be handled by members of area Boy Scout troops. Troop 100 of Smithfield PTA will be joined by Troop 104 of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church and 95 of Paradise Community center for demonstrations.

Troops 104 and 100 will double in handling camping displays, aided by Troop 88 of Salvation Army; Troop 83 of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church and Troop 81 of East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

In the Pioneering class, Troops 95 and 104 will be joined by Troop 300 of Arlington Heights PTA.

The Roman Chariot Race will be presented by Troop 300 and boys of Troop 87.

All boys will participate in the opening ceremony and nearly 100 will participate in the closing flag ceremony. There will be a number of unannounced events, according to Hoehne with the show planned to give the air of a three-ring circus. The show format has been planned on the basis of presenting all displays, pageants and demonstrations with no lapse of time. As soon as one is finished another will have begun.

Tickets are being sold by participating units and will be available at Hill Meadow Stables Friday night.

LaBar Is East Bangor Park Head

EAST BANGOR—Roger LaBar was named temporary chairman of the Blaine Reimel Memorial Park Committee at a reactivation meeting in East Bangor Borough Hall.

Named as temporary secretary was Mrs. Carol Messinger. Others to serve on the committee for Wilbur Strunk, Ray McFall, Martin Hess, Delmar Smith and Mrs. Alta Moysey.

The appointment of temporary officers was made by Mayor Bernard Parsons. The temporary officers will serve until the committee meets for an organization meeting.

LaBar said that several requests for bookings at the park have been made. He urged all persons wanting to use the park to contact him for reservations.

Clean-up was held Saturday, May 23. Members of the East Bangor Fire Co., the Sportsmen's Assn., local Boy Scouts, and residents participated in the program.

Top Books At S-burg Library

STROUDSBURG — Making note that the 1964 Pulitzer Prize failed to include an award for fiction, the Monroe County librarian reminded county residents, "That prize-winning novels of the past are awaiting a new generation of readers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kane said the library contains such Pulitzer winners as "Alice Adams," 1922; "Gone With the Wind," 1937; "A Bell for Adano," 1945, and "The Good Earth," 1935.

She said books still popular with county readers are "Bridge of San Luis Rey," which won the prize in 1928 and "The Yearling," which brought the coveted prize to Marjorie Kinnan Rawling in 1939.

Mrs. Kane said other Pulitzer Prize-winning novels as well as winners in biography, history and drama are available at the county library on W. Main St., Stroudsburg.

Trailer Fire

PEN AGYL — Workmen removing a tire rack with an acetylene torch set fire to a flat-bed trailer parked in a lot on West Main Street in Pen Argyl, Monday.

The trailer, owned by Lobb's Trucking Co., was destroyed. The Lookout Fire Company in Pen Argyl answered the call about 4 p.m. William Savercool, fire chief, said there was no immediate estimate of the damage from the blaze, which firemen extinguished with booster streams.

Just Between Us — —

JUST BETWEEN US .... RISLE

I learned long ago not to say "We have one of every organization except—" because, sure as shouting, somebody'd start the exception. But even in my more daring days I'm sure I'd never have dreamed up the ending—"except the Wrestling Mothers Club."

But now we've got one anyway. When I offered to attend any meeting when the mothers were going to wrestle, I got taken up on it: they just may learn the techniques of wrestling at that. Actually, there was quite a discussion on whether it should be the Wrestlers Mothers but that sounded sort of like Whistler's Mothers, so Wrestling Mothers it is.

Names are quite a problem, if not to the organization at least to the headline writer. W's and M's take up enough type space to be a problem with Band Mothers or Music Parents and twice the problem with Wrestling Mothers. If I ever judge a name contest I'll pick names no more than 11 picas long. If I were to take sides in the current controversy over having one or four school districts in the county I'd be in favor of any situation which would eliminate the clumsy "Joint Area School District."

In church groups, the term Ladies Aid and Missionary Society was cumbersome but they're hardly improved it by changing to United Lutheran Church Women, Women's Association of Christian Service, or Deanery of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women.

Names of organizations are confusing in other respects. I know who the Rachel Brodhead Rebekahs are and who the Elsie Longacre Rebekahs are but so far none of the members I've asked could tell me who Rachel Brodhead or Elsie Longacre were. Chances are they were founding members with noble attributes but so far nobody's turned up with any details.

But the saddest name for any organization to take is to tack on the word "Young"—both the members and the organization gets so soon "Old."

Mrs. Stephen Gregory Bisher

(Lens Art)

Miss Diane Louise Houck Bride Of Stephen G. Bisher

Bangor—Miss Diane Louise Houck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Houck, of 215 Broadway, Bangor, was married on Saturday, May 16, at 2 p. m. in the Trinity Lutheran Church, Bangor, to Stephen Gregory Bisher.

He is the son of Mrs. Edith M. Bisher, of 132 Miller St., Bangor, and the late Russell Bisher.

Rev. William Dennis performed the ceremony. Mrs. Bonnie Miller was organist and Dennis Harris was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of silk organza trimmed with appliques of Alencon lace, with a chapel train. A crown of lace, seed pearls and crystals held her fingertip veil of French silk illusion which had scalloped edges. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Veronica Houck, of 813 East Main St., Pen Argyl, as matron of honor, wore a dress of pale pink silk organza over taffeta with a matching picture hat and carried a cascade of deep pink and white carnations.

Miss Kathy Bisher, of 132 Miller St., Bangor; Miss Jane Kressler, of 311 South Second St., Bangor, and Mrs. Sharon Rehrig, of Jacksonville, N. C., were bridesmaids. They also wore pale pink silk organza gowns over taffeta with matching picture hats and carried deep pink carnations. Glenna Louise Houck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenwood Houck, of Pen Argyl, was flower girl. She wore a pale pink silk organza gown with a headpiece of feathered carnations. She carried a basket of pink and white carnations.

Barry Gleim, of Miller St., Bangor, was best man. Ushers were Warren Brodt, of High St., Bangor; Glenwood Houck, Pen Argyl; Glen Borger, 311 Lafayette St., Palmerton.

A reception was held at the Elks Lodge, Bangor, before the newlyweds left for a wedding trip in New York City.

The bride was graduated from Bangor Area High School in 1961 and from the School of X-Ray Technicians at the General Hospital of Monroe County, where she was employed before her marriage.

Mr. Bisher was also graduated from Bangor Area High School in 1960 and attended Pennsylvania State Extension, Allentown, before entering the service. He is an Airman Second Class in the U. S. Air Force and is stationed at Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

Estelle Koster, president of Hadassah; Marion Feinsilber, chairman of radio publicity, and I met in our Wyckoff Tea Room Monday noon for lunch and the making of plans pertinent to this year's big Wyckoff-Hadassah Fashion Show of Wednesday evening, June 24th, at Unity House. And when Estelle handed me the colorfully illustrated brochure, showing Unity House and its huge 1200-seat Broadway-style theatre, I was so surprised and delighted I can hardly wait until the big day rolls around.

Unity House of twenty or more years ago, when First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt was a frequent speaker there, would hardly recognize the Unity House of today. It has grown so, and become so very elegant. Just as the brochure says, to vacation there would be "like being a guest at a spacious, lavish, lovely country estate." As you may know, Unity House is owned and operated on a non-profit basis by the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union and what more appropriate place to show fashions than in a place that is "home" to many of the workers who have participated in their creation?

We shall miss Tamiment, of course, for the hospitality there was always of the finest; the food was delectable, and Tamiment is also one of this region's outstanding and most respected resorts. But, as I have mentioned on the air, the change in setting was necessitated by Tamiment's heavy convention schedule involving the only date agreeable to our store when the Israeli gowns were available to us.

One advantage in having the show presented in the Unity House theatre will be the convenience to those who do not plan to dine at the resort, and who wish to be assured of a good seat upon their later arrival. Estelle tells me one will have a perfect view of the show regardless of where on sits in the theatre. "It's huge," she tells me, "and has everything . . . perfect acoustics, more lighting effects than we will ever need, an orchestra pit with a full orchestra to furnish musical background, and a marvelous scenic director who is already working on the settings for us." All this . . . plus air conditioning! Sounds mighty heavenly, don't you agree?

If you do, please make a note of the date, and let's have one . . . shall we? A date, I mean.

I can't honestly say I enjoy working two nights (Monday and Friday) a week . . . but sometimes there are compensations. This past Monday evening, for example, Elwood and Dorothy Grant dropped by so that Elwood could show me the colored slides he made of the various tables in our Table of the Month Exhibit. All of them are excellent as his slides invariably are. We have ordered a set of prints for our store file, and suggest that any clubs wishing to have a record of their entry contact the Grants at once. Incidentally, they are leaving very soon on another of their vacations-with-caremia, so don't delay.

When the Danish gym team appeared at the State College a few winters ago, they had a mascot a wild-haired, bug-eyed doll called a Troll. Every Danish child, I was told, owns one, just as most American babies have a teddy bear. Now we are selling boy and girl trolls: he-niks, she-niks . . . and both are "wish-niks." You stroke their hair for good luck; you make wishes on them, and you vent your anger upon them (rather than upon your family or the boss) when you need a whipping boy. These were created by Thomas Dam of Denmark, and his slogan, as you might guess, is "one 'DAM' thing leads to another." He's so right! So very DAM right.

Your Heart Has Nine Lives--4

You Can Eat Your Way Out Of Danger

By Alton Blakeslee
and Jeremiah Stamler, M.D.

You can easily eat your way into a high risk of a heart attack as measured by high blood cholesterol.

But with knife and fork and spoon and glass, you can also lower blood cholesterol in a short time, and keep it down.

The change required is moderate — not a drastic surrendering of all the foods that tempt you, not a starvation diet, not a monotonous restriction to just a few things so typical of many crash diets.

It involves primarily a change in the amount and type of fat — and the amount of cholesterol — you eat. And it does work, as dozens of scientific tests have shown.

One example is the Anti-Coronary Club, started in New York in 1957, in which middle-aged men voluntarily adopted diet changes.

Blood cholestrol fell to safer levels in about 80 per cent of these men, and about half who had been chubby lost weight.

Their rate of heart attacks has been one - fifth the rate expected for men of this age, on the basis of other studies.

It is premature to credit the diet change with actually having prevented many heart attacks. But we can be cautiously optimistic. There is good reason to expect that a 15 to 20 per cent reduction in cholesterol level among middle - aged men could reduce heart attacks by 25 to 50 per cent.

The main diet change required is in emphasis upon the kinds of foods and "goodies" you eat — more emphasis on some, less on others. You can still be a gourmet.

The Rules Are Simple

Reduce the share of calories or "fuel" coming from fats, in favor of other foods you like.

Put less emphasis on foods high in saturated fats.

Put more emphasis on foods high in polyunsaturated fats.

Put less emphasis on foods high in cholesterol contest.

Control total caloric intake to achieve and then hold to desireable weight. Don't expect this to happen in a quick week or so.

The key is to subsitute for some present habits.

Substitute low-fat or nonfat foods to reduce the total calories from fats down to 25 to 30 per cent of calories supplied by everything you eat.

Substitute more polyunsaturated fats for the saturated kind. Don't just add polyunsaturated fats to what you are eating now. That would merely add to your total fats and calories.

Saturated fats, the kind that tend to raise blood cholesterol, generally but not always come from animals. They usually solidify at room temperature, like the fat in gravy or stew.

Polyunsaturated fats generally, but not always, come from vegetable or fish oils, and tend to remain liquid at room temperature.

If you reduce your intake of saturated fats and cholesterol, blood cholesterol comes down. If you substitute some polyunsaturated fats for the saturated kind, you get a further moderate decrease in blood cholesterol.

For general guidelines, here's how to choose among major types of dishes:

Dairy Products

Emphasize those low in fats and cholestrol — such as skim milk, buttermilk, cottage cheese, other low-fat cheeses.

De - emphasize high-fat products such as sweet cream, sour cream, ice cream, fat-rich cheeses, butter.

Eggs

De - emphasize, Egg yolks are very high in cholesterol and contain considerable amounts of saturated fat. The white of eggs is essentially a protein, albumen, and you can eat as much of that as you like. Reduce egg consumption to two or three yolks a week.

Meats

Emphasize trimmed cuts of lean meat. Trim off all the visible fat on a steak or roast before you eat it — or before you cook it. Cook so as to get rid of the fat, and keep the portions down to moderate size.

Poultry

Emphasize lean poultry, especially white meat of chicken. Fryers and broilers, and turkey. Avoid the skin because fat is concentrated under the skin. Ducks, geese and stewing hens are relatively high in fat.

Fish And Seafood

Emphasize favorite fish and seafoods which are high in protein content, and much lower in saturated fats and higher in polyunsaturated fats than are meats.

Vegetables And Fruits

Emphasize all of these. They are low or moderate in calories, and rich in essential nutrients, vitamins and minerals. The small amounts of fat in most vegetables are polyunsaturated.

Use oil and vinegar on salads, or prepared dressing containing ployunsaturated fats, or mayonnaise and mayonnaise-type salad dressings low in saturated and high in polyunsaturated fats.

Pastries And Bakery Products

De - emphasize these foods, especially since most commercial sweet rolls, cakes, cookies, doughnuts, rich crackers, pies and pastries are not only high in calories, but are generally made with highly saturated shortenings. For dessert, you can more frequently substitute fruit, fresh or compote, for pie a la mode or shortcake, for example.

Breads, Cereals And Pastas

Prefectly acceptable are white bread, whole wheat and rye bread, plain rolls, low-fat crackers, all cereals (use skim milk with them), all pastas such as spaghetti, macaroni, and noodles — and potatoes too. In cooking, use oils, not solid shortenings.

Spreads And Oils

De - emphasize solid spreads, cooking fats, butter and margarines high in saturated fats. New margarines now are available made with corn or safflower oils which are higher in polyunsaturates and lower in saturated fats. With bread or toast, try using jelly, jam or honey or marmalade rather than a thick layer of butter.

Space out your meals over the day, rather than count on one meal and semi-starvation at breakfast or lunch. The great banquet type of supper or dinner tends to raise blood cholesterol.

Remember, most of the fat, particularly the hard fat, comes from five big sources in the American diet — meats, fat-rich dairy products (whole milk, cream, cheeses), eggs, solid fats (butter, lard, shortenings and margarines) and commercial baked goods (pastries, cakes, cookies, pies).

Make a significant dent in all of these, and it's hard to miss the target.

Pennsy Denies Rules Changes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Andrew J. Kaelin, an international vice president of the Transport Workers Union, charges the Pennsylvania Railroad intends to press for changes in work rules affecting maintennnce workers.

The charge was disputed by J. J. Maher, the Pennsy's director of labor relations.

Kaelin cited a memorandum sent recently to supervisors and foremen listing 32 possible changes in the union's contract and asking estimates of economies that might result. He said the changes would be in addition to proposals made by the railroad last August in reply to Transport Workers Union demands for contract changes.

Maher in a letter to Kaelin said, however, the memorandum was "nothing more than a survey which the regions conduct from time to time to determine what economies could be realized if it were possible to get your organization to agree to remove from the agreement restrictions the regions find onerous in their operations."

Demo Primary Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee sent an investigator to Philadelphia Tuesday to look into allegations of irregularities in last month's Democratic senatorial primary.

The investigator, James Duffy, works for the subcommittee on privileges and elections, a rules subcommittee.

A subcommittee aide said a complaint was filed Sunday by Ferdinand P. Schoeppel, an attorney for persons who backed the candidacy of Miss Genevieve Blatt, the state's secretary of internal affairs.

At last count, Miss Blatt was trailing the organization-backed candidate, state Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno, but fewer than 200 votes out of more than 900,000 cast.

Naomi Lake Private Development

POCONO PINES — Lake Naomi, long a gathering place of sailboat enthusiasts and vacationers in the Pocono Mountains, this season has become a private lake for the first time in many years.

The lake, where National Sailing Regattas have been held and where boating, swimming and fishing are an important part of the vacation picture, is now the center of the newest community of vacation homes in the Poconos. It is located on Route 940, in Pocono Pines.

Hub of social activities in this new development of leisure - time homes will be the Clubhouse, which opens on May 30. All lot owners in the new community are privileged to apply for membership to the Lake Naomi Club, to enjoy the use of the Clubhouse, and its complete facilities, which include a restaurant, bar, sandy beach for swimming and sunning, and the beautiful Lake Naomi, the two - and-one-half mile long, spring-fed lake in the heart of unspoiled forestland.

The Clubhouse will be in the care of an experienced staff headed by Fred Reynolds, formerly associated with the Early Wynn Steak House in Florida. The building itself has been a popular food-and-fun spot at Lake Naomi, and fronts on the lake, giving a spectacular view over the water.

Model homes and an office building will be ready in late spring. From now on, however, the area which was formerly a private estate of some 2800 acres is open for admiration for folks interested in a retirement, weekend, Summer, holiday or vacation home in the heart of the Pocono Mountains.

More than 450,000 veterans visit Veterans Administration clinics to receive outpatients care in a single month.

cut calories with SWEETA® concentrated sweetener!

There's enough sweetness for 380 iced drinks in one little bottle of Sweeta, the little giant of sweeteners from Squibb. Just 2 drops of Sweeta give you all the sweetness of 8 drops of another leading no-calorie sweetener.

Reason? Sweeta is concentrated! An exclusive, patented formula concentrates sweetness so that every drop counts. Result? Sweetness that tastes like sugar, but doesn't act like it—no calories.

Use it everywhere you'd use sugar—in coffee, on grapefruit, in iced drinks—and save more than 6000 calories every little bottle.

So ask for Sweeta, Squibb Concentrated Liquid Sweetener in the squeeze-a-drop bottle. Also available in handy new tablet form—bottles of 100 tiny lumps of sweetness. Both at your drugstore.

SU Notches 11th By Whipping PMJ

STROUDSBURG — StroudUnion's baseball juggernaut used 21 men in a 12-0 rout of Pocono Mountain yesterday on the juggernaut's home diamond.

Dave Pierson pitched a four-hitter for Stroud Union, which upped its season record to 11-0; it already won the Lehigh Valley League title, going undefeated in league play.

Most of the SU runs came in two big innings — the third and fourth. The champs exploded for four runs in the third and came back with six runs in the fourth. They pecked out single tallies in the fifth and sixth.

Two Pocono Mountain hits were singles and two were doubles by Dave Ruehlman and Jerry Hanna. SU did a handsome bit of extra-base scoring, also.

Glenn Bisbing homered while centerfielder John Kulp smacked a triple. Doubles were socked by John Muller and Fred Frantz.

Frantz also stole a base.

Art Altemose started for Pocono Mountain and Cris Welch finished it up. Altemose was charged with the loss.

Pierson turned in a fine performance, striking out 14 walking four, and allowing only the four hits.

Altemose was charged with all the runs, with Welch pitching only to the last batter.

After 57 Years, Golfer Swinging

SCARSDALE, N. Y. (AP)—In 1907, J. Ellis Knowles, a junior at Yale, qualified for the intercollegiate golf championship with a 77.

About 57 years later, Knowles qualified for the Westchester Senior spring tournament with a 79 on Tuesday.

That may indicate he hasn't improved much in the meantime. Actually, Knowles, who will be 78 on Oct. 31, probably would have matched both his age and his earlier score except for a bad start.

"I topped the ball off the first three tees, and had six, six, six," Knowles said after playing the par 70 Quaker Ridge course.

Phils Whip Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Johnny Callison's perfect day at the plate — four singles and a home run—put the Philadelphia Phillies back in the National League lead Wednesday with a 7-2 triumph over San Francisco which snapped pitcher Juan Marichal's victory string at 12.

Unbeaten since Aug. 30, 1963, and winner of six games this campaign, Marichal gave up a solo homer to Richie Allen and a two-run shot by Wes Covington in the fifth inning.

Callison singled his first four times at bat, then homered in the eighth inning. His single in the Phils' three-run sixth drove in two runs.

Willie Mays went hitless in three official times at bat and dropped below the .400 mark, winding up the day at .393.

Varsity PM Meets Tonight

SWIFTWATER — The regular monthly meeting of the Varsity PM Club will be held tonight at 8 p.m. in the Pocono Mountain Joint High School in Swiftwater.

Carpenter, Helms Join Grid Staff

POCONO PINES — Lew Carpenter, new Minnesota Viking end coach, and Gordon Helms, former Little All-American quarterback at Valparaiso University, have joined the staff of the Second Annual Pocono Crest Football School for 1964.

Carpenter played with the Green Bay Packers until this season and performed as end and halfback. Helms went on from Valparaiso, where he set all-time passing and total offense records, to play with the Cleveland Bulldogs of the United Football League.

Carpenter and Helms join Fred "Fuzzy" Thurston and Ray Nitschke of the Green Bay Packers and Roger LeClerc of the world champion Chicago Bears on the Pocono Crest Staff.

Originally scheduled for June 21-26, a second session June 15-20 will be held to accommodate the large turnout of young high school players. The school stresses individual skills and fundamentals, coupled with drills, conditioning, movie work, and offense and defense theory.

A special program of isometrics will be held at the camp this year under the direction of Charles Bolton, registered physical therapist and Valparaiso University trainer.

Vacancies still exist in the June 15-20 session, Pocono Crest director Carl F. Galow announced, while the June 21-26 period is nearly filled.

Edinboro Ties ESSC For '64 PSCAC Tennis Crown

EAST STROUDSBURG — The East Stroudsburg State College tennis team has a new motto: "What do you have to do to win a title?"

Last year they lost the first net match to Trenton, and went on to win the next 10 matches.

This year they beat everybody to bring their winning streak to 21. In the 11-0 season this year, wins over Shippensburg, West Chester, and Millersville and dual victories over Kutztown and Bloomsburg were racked up.

All this and the team ended up in a tie with Edinboro of the western division of the Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference.

"They use the Saylor system of scoring a team on the strength of its opponents," said Dr. Charles Wolbers, ESSC net mentor, last night.

No Playoff

"There'll be no playoff. Originally we heard that we had won from the office of Merle Agnello, PSCAC publicity director, but yesterday we received word that we had only tied.

"When a team goes on to 21 straight wins and can only tie, some inventory should be taken. Last year with only one loss — outside the conference — we placed second to California State College.

"In golf, wrestling, football, swimming, baseball, right down the line, there are playoffs to decide a winner. We're hopingo that in the future we might have a tournament in tennis so a winner could be decided," Dr. Wolbers said.

Dr. ohn R. Eiler, director of athletics at ESSC, said, "First we were the winners, then yesterday we heard that we had tied.

"We're trying to set up a games committee in hopes of conducting playoffs in all the sports. The Saylor system is the system they use to pick the tennis champ or champs, but we don't think it's a good system."

Confirms Tie

Agnello said that East Stroudsburg and Edinboro had tied, according to the Saylor system. He gave no figures on the Edinboro won-lost record.

"The whole thing will be made official when the directors of athletics of the various schools approve the figures," he said last night. "Dr. Eiler is one of these men."

Dr. Wolbers said this year was a repeat of the confusion last year. "We had already started our celebration when we heard that we had lost," he said.

Mathis Tops In Olympic Fight Trial

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Buster Mathis, the surprisingly fast 295-pounder from Grand Rapids Mich., hammered out a unanimous decision over Joe Frazier of Philadelphia in the heavyweight final of the Olympic boxing trials Wednesday night.

The 6-3, 19-year-old AAU champion, moving more quickly than his 195-pound rival, unleashed a barrage of left hooks and rights to the head in the last 30 seconds to sweep the verdict.

Mathis and the nine other winners of the trial finals made the team which will compete in the Tokyo Olympics Oct. 10-24.

Bob Carmody, the interservice flyweight champion from Ft. Campbell, Ky., and Brooklyn, became the first to make the team when he gained a split decision over 16-year-old Mel Miller of Fairview, Mont., in the first final.

L-M Tags Ronson For Eight Runs

EAST STROUDSBURG — Line Material whipped Ronson, 8-1, in a Monroe County Industrial Softball League game yesterday on Kulp's Field.

Russ Marsh pounded the softball over the fence for L-M, for the only extra base hit of the game.

Ronson was held to three hits by Hahn, the L-M pitcher. Boyer took the loss for the lightermen.

The big scoring push came in the sixth when L-M exploded for six runs. No one on either side had more than a lone hit.

Baltimore Tops K. C.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Boog Powell's two-run homer capped a five-run, fifth inning rally that lifted the Baltimore Orioles to an 8-3 victory over the Kansas City Athletics Wednesday night.

The homer, off relief pitcher Jack Aker, was Powell's seventh and the fifth in his last eight games. In the last 13 games, Powell has driven in 18 runs.

Kansas City	001 000 101—3	5	1
Baltimore	012 050 00x—8	13	1

Segui, Aker (5), Handrahan (6), Bowsfield (8) and Lau, Duncan (6); Pappas and Orsino. W—Pappas, 3-2. L—Segui, 2-3.

Home run—Baltimore, Powell (7).

Short Notice NAIA Bid Given To ESSC

EAST STROUDSBURG — I'll see you tomorrow in the NAIA baseball playoffs," the Elizabethtown College director of the athletics said yesterday to John R. Eiler, director of athletics at East Stroudsburg State.

The call came at 10 a.m.

"You're kidding me," Dr. Eiler's reply.

That was how ESSC learned that it had received a bid to enter the NAIA championships which start today at Mifflintown on the field of the Juniata Joint High School.

On Way Home

The team—many of whom had finished final exams and were on their way home — was hurriedly recalled and the players will travel to meet Elizabethtown at 1:30 p.m. today.

Indiana State College has drawn a bye in the tourney —the winner of the ESSC-Betties game will play Indiana today also.

The winner of both of today's games, or Indiana, will travel to West Virginia to play the District 28 champs. ESSC is in District 30.

That winner will go to St. Joseph, Mo., for the NAIA finals June 8 through 11.

The ESSC diamondmen got the bid because of their 9-5 record on the year.

Unfortunately, they didn't know about it until the day before the games were to begin.

Twins Beat Yanks On HRs By Killebrew

NEW YORK (AP)—The Minnesota Twins erupted for five runs in the first inning and won their second straight over the New York Yankees Wednesday, 7-4, as Camilo Pascual pitched his fifth victory of the season.

Harmon Killebrew hammered his 10th and 11th homers for the Twins and took over the league lead. Rookie Tony Oliva had a two-run homer in the big first.

The victory gave the Twins a sweep of the two-game set, the first series of the year between the two teams.

Pascual struck out nine in running his record to 5-2.

Pinch hitter Johnny Blanchard slipped a two-run homer just inside the right field foul pole in the Yankee ninth.

The Twins struck swiftly against Yankee starter Ralph Terry. Zoilo Versalles singled and Rich Rollins tripled him home. Then Oliva, the hot-hitting right fielder, hit a two-run homer.

Bob Allison doubled and after Terry struck out Jimmie Hall Killebrew hit his first homer of the day. That made it 5-0 and brought on Bill Stafford.

Allison tripled in the sixth inning and scored on an error by Bobby Richardson, and Killebrew hit his second homer of the game in the eighth inning off Steve Hamilton.

Minnesota	500 001 010—7	10	0
New York	002 000 002—4	9	1

Pascual and Battey; Terry, Stafford (1), Mikkelsen (7), Hamilton (8) and Howard. W-Pascual, 5-2. L-Terry, 1-3.

Home runs—Minnesota, Killebrew, 2 (11), Oliva (8). New York, Blanchard (1).

Pen Argyl's Turtzo Wins Brite Star Of Year Award

By KEN O'BRIEN
Daily Record Sports Editor

STROUDSBURG — David Turtzo, the highest-scoring basketball player in the history of Pen Argyl High School, last night was awarded the sixth annual "Brite Star of the Year" award at a dinner honoring the top athletes of the Pocono-Slate Belt area for the 1963-64 season.

Turtzo, a four-letter varsity winner in both basketball and baseball, last year broke the Lehigh-Northampton League scoring record in basketball with a total of 502 points—102 points higher than the old mark set by Cal Vogel of Wilson Borough.

He also scored the most points by a Pen Argyl player in one game (55 against Palisades), the most points by a Pen Argyl player for one season (671), and the most points by a Pen Argyl player for a career (1,428).

School Principal Al Jackson, who has called Turtzo "an outstanding school citizen," also describes him as "our most dependable baseball player."

Sought by more than 20 colleges, Turtzo is an "A" student who ranks in the top eight of his class of 129.

He is a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the band, chorus and Year Book staff. He also is president of the Student Council and served as president of his class during his sophomore and junior years.

Clark Lauded

Special "Brite Community Spirit Awards" were presented to Robert L. Clark, managing editor of The Daily Record, and to Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, president of East Stroudsburg State College.

The award to Clark "for his contribution in promoting sportsmanship" was presented by Ken O'Brien, sports editor of the Record.

Koehler's award, for being a "leader, counselor and friend of our youth," was presented by Jack Gregory, head football coach of the college.

Attorney Joseph McDonald of Dunmore, principal speaker for the affair, told the athletes "this night marks a milestone in your life," but warned that it "must not be a hitching post which will stop you from moving on to greater fields."

McDonald lauded the coaches whom he said have prepared their athletes to "look to the great and more important battles of life.

"These young men," he added, "must concern themselves with the future . . . The training that the coaches give you is a great asset to our athletes of today."

He also told the athletes that "You must train yourselves to meet the challenges of the years ahead."

McDonald also referred to two recent great Americans — the late President John F. Kennedy and the late Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur— whom he said "provided a great inspiration for our youth of today."

Former Stars

The former "Brite Stars of the Year," which date back to 1959, were given a "tape review" by Ed Sommers, sales manager of WVPO, and also included their present-day status. They are:

1959 — Evan Reese, East Stroudsburg High School (football), who is now in medical school at the University of Pennsylvania.

1960 — William Schoonover, Stroud Union High School (football), who has been signed by the Cleveland Browns and who graduated this year from Syracuse (N.Y.) University.

1961—Richard Wolslayer, East Stroudsburg State College (football), who is now teaching and coaching at Middletown (N.Y.) High School.

1962 — Robert DelGrosso, Pius X of Roseto (football), now enrolled at Penn State.

1963 — Walter (Bud) Stann, East Stroudsburg High School (football), and Norbert Ryan, Pocono Mountain High School (basketball), a dual award. Staan is now at West Point; Ryan at the U. S. Naval Academy.

NFL Adds 110 Players To Pension Fund

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League spread the wealth from its lush new playoff game television contract Wednesday by adding 110 players to the pension list and including coaches, trainers and equipment men in the fund.

The NFL also cut in third place teams for the first time.

The new breakdown was announced at the annual spring meeting here.

The new Columbia Broadcasting System contract calls for $1.8 million a game for each of the next two NFL playoff games—about double the old total.

Among the retired players who will now be eligible for pension benefits are Charley Conerly, Les Richter, Gene Brito, Art Donovan, Kyle Rote, Bobby Layne, Alan Ameche and Tim Brookshier.

The 110 players were not eligible under the old plan, which began in 1959. The new arrangement covers all players with five years in the league, providing one of the years is 1959.

Finley Plans Fireworks

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles O. Finley said Wednesday more of Kansas City will see fireworks displays of his Athletics than ever before.

The club owner, prevented from using fireworks in Municipal Stadium this season, was bubbling over with enthusiasm over a remote control plan to set off the missiles when the club hits a homer or wins a game.

Until this season, Finley had used the works freely at the stadium. But there were complaints and the city council said no more of them. Tuesday Finley filed mandamus action seeking to have the ban lifted.

Varsity 'S' Meets Tonight

STROUDSBURG—The monthly meeting of the Stroud Union Varsity "S" Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the Stroudsburg Municipal Building.

Final preparations for the athletic banquet and films of last year's championship NFL game between the Bears and the Giants will be shown.

Light refreshments will be served after the meeting, and newly-elected officers will be installed.

Pius X Tops Sparta, 7-3

SPARTA, N.J.—Pius X broke loose for 11 hits against Sparta, N.J., yesterday and defeated the home team, 7-3.

The big gun for the Roseto school was Frank Zito, who got two hits, a double and a triple.

Frank Godino went four for five at the plate. Jim Detzi also hammered out a double for Pius X. Tropchinski hit a double for Sparta.

$125 For 213

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Gentile will step on the scales in the Kansas City clubhouse in Baltimore sometime this week. If the finger on the dial stops short of 213, handsome Jim will pocket another $125.

This is the deal that Charlie Finley, owner of the A's, made with his first baseman during spring training.

Gentile, hitting .267 with six home runs and 17 runs batted in, was talking about his unusual deal before one of the weekend games in New York.

"As soon as they made the deal with Baltimore for me, Charlie told me to come to Florida weighing no more than 216," said Gentile. "I weighed about 230 at the time so I started watching the calories. I reported at 215 and after I had been playing 10 days I was down to 213.

"Charlie said he wanted me to play at 213 and told me I'd get $125 each week I was under that. He had it all figured out. If I stayed under all year it will come to $3,125.

"The first week it was 211½, then 211, 210½ and 210¼. Weigh in day is Tuesday."

Indy '500' To Be Shown At Allentown

ALLENTOWN — The action of the 48th Annual Indianapolis 500-Mile Automobile Race on Memorial Day, May 30th, will be brought to area racing fans via closed circuit telecast at the Agricultural Hall at the Allentown Fairgrounds.

Co - directors of the Allentown showing are George Marshman, father of Bobby Marshman, who has the fastest lap record at the speedway, and Lou Heller, veteran race driver and official.

Heller revealed today that the five hour show will begin at 11:30 a.m. with filmed highlights of the time trials and pre-race festivities. The 500, thriller gets under way at noon.

The action will be shown on a screen 14 feet by 24 feet long. At least 12 cameras, two video tape recorders, 30 microphones and 22 announcers will be utilized to provide the best possible coverage.

The cameras will show viewers the pits, as the race cars are fueled and tuned up. Sam Hanks will assist the regular announcers with professional commentary.

Shortstop, Righthander Lead Lehigh

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — Sophomore shortstop Art Thomas of Berkeley Heights, N.J. and veteran righthander Ben Rushong of Camp Hill were the batting and pitching leaders for the Lehigh University baseball team which ended its season Saturday.

Thomas batted .321 while playing in all 14 of the team's games. He stroked 17 hits in 53 trips to the plate and led the team in bases on balls (12) and runs scored (10).

Rushong posted a 3-2 won-lost record. He completed five of six starts and allowed only 15 earned runs in 49 innings, an ERA of 2.75. He gave up 47 hits and struck out 52 while walking only 18. His victories were over Bucknell (6-4, Lafayette (18-5) and Gettysburg (10-5).

Junior outfielder Rein Mannik of Lakewood, N.J. followed Thomas in the final team batting averages. Mannik hit opposing pitching at a .311 clip (14 hits in 45 at bats). He scored seven runs and drove in six.

Sophomore first baseman Marty Vitale of Queens Village, N.Y. and sophomore second baseman Les Kish of Phillipsburg, N. J., batted .295 and .283 respectively.

Blue Ridge Bowmen Plan Dogwood Shoot

SAYLORSBURG — The Blue Ridge Bowmen will host its annual Dogwood Shoot at the club's range located near Saylorsburg on Sunday.

It will be an all-day activity with breakfast and registration from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. A whistle start will commence the day's shooting with 14 hunter and 14 animal targets on the butts.

Lunch will be served when the round is completed. Twenty-eight field targets will be shot in the afternoon. Trophies and medals will be awarded to three places in all instinctive classes, with separate divisions for men and women.

Free style shooters (those who use a bow sight) will compete as one class, with a trophy and two medals to be awarded in this class.

A notable first will take place during the tournament. There will be competition among professional archers. This will be the first time that non - amateur archers will have shot in competition with each other at a Blue Ridge shoot.

In addition to the competitive shooting, an all-day Novelty Schoot will be presented. Archers will shoot at a large-sized cartoon duck set at an unknown distance.

The public is invited to attend the Dogwood Shoot and watch the fun. For those wishing to compete, the price of registration includes both breakfast and lunch.

LEWISBURG, Pa. — William Yoemans, head football coach at Souderton Area Joint High School, has been appointed instructor in physical education at Bucknell University.

A 1958 graduate of East Stroudsburg State College, Yoemans has been head coach at Souderton for the past four years, compiling a 27-8-5 overall record.

Three Events Featured At Harmony

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J. — "Last Friday night's inaugural of separate feature events of the modified, sportsman, and limited sportsman race classes was met with such approval it will be continued as a regular feature at Harmony Speedway," owner Carl VanHorn said yesterday.

He also said that women speedsters — the powder puffers — would appear at the speedway soon.

The Friday feature was taken by Frank Schneider, the only repeat winner so far this year at the raceway.

Mays Named For Hickok Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays, winner of the S. Rae Hickok professional athlete of the year award in 1954, is the winner of the April poll in the race for the 1964 award.

The San Francisco Giants outfielder, who has been on a hitting spree since the start of the National League season, received 52 first-place votes and 205 points in the balloting of sports writers and broadcasters. The monthly winners are eligible for final selection as pro athlete of the year.

Jess Neely has had 17 teams play .500 or better football in his 24 seasons at Rice.

Darlene Hard To Teach Tennis

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Darlene Hard, the No. 1 ranked woman tennis player in the United States, has turned pro to teach the game until she marries in the fall.

The 28-year-old star from Montebello, Calif., who won the U.S. championship in 1960 and 1961, told of her decision Tuesday and said:

"I've played competitive tennis for a long time and represented the country long enough, I think. I'm a little bit tired and teaching gives me an opportunity to give some of the information back."

How Monroe - Pike Solons Voted In State Assembly

HARRISBURG — Although the 1964 Legislature is in recess until May 25, here is a recap of how Monroe - Pike County lawmakers voted on major bills during the week of May 11.

In the House of Representatives Van D. Yetter Jr. of Monroe County and J. Russell Eshback of Pike County voted on six major bills. They voted yes on each one and all were passed.

William Z. Scott of Lansford voted on four major bills in the Senate. All bills passed and his vote was yes on each of the major bills.

Bills in the House of Representative were:

H-1 — Sharply amend and condigy the laws relating to Eminent Domain, to provide among other things, 100 per cent reimbursement immediately of the estimated damages on the condemned property.

H-34 — Making an appropriation of $500,000 the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries for coal research.

H-78 — Resolution in reference to H-78, specifically prohibiting the levying of a state income tax, returning the bill to committee, for legislative death.

H-128 — Providing certain exemptions from the state excise tax on net earnings or income of mutual thrift institutions, and repealing part of an act imposing other taxes.

H-129 — Making an appropriation of $1,500,000 to the Department of Property and Supplies for payment in lieu of taxes in political subdivisions wherein the Commonwealth owns real estate.

S-1 — Amending the Blind War Veterans' Act, clarifying the term "war veteran" to include all veterans blinded while in service, regardless of wound or injury, war or peacetime, and making provisions retroactive to last July 1.

Bills in the Senate were:

H-135 — Making an appropriation totaling $4,050,500 from various funds to the Department of Labor and Industry for payment of the state's share of Social Security taxes, covering state employes.

H-137 — Making an appropriation of $425,921 for payment of rental charges to the General State Authority, $387,227 from the Motor License Fund, and $38,644 from the Fish Fund.

H-138 — Providing for an appropriation to the Treasury Department to cover replacement checks issued in lieu of outstanding checks when presented, and to adjust errors.

H-141 — Making an appropriation of $13,000 from the Motor License Fund to the Department of Public Instruction for the promotion of highway safety education.

The Veterans Administration is providing care for eligible veterans in 168 hospitals, 18 domiciliaries and 217 out-patient clinics.

Salvation Army Week

EAST STROUDSBURG —Major H. G. Baker, commanding officer of the Salvation Army in East Stroudsburg, announced yesterday that this week is being observed as National Salvation Army Week.

"We of the Salvation Army extend our thanks and appreciation to the many friends and volunteers during this observance. We are humbly pleased to be of service to those in need and proud that area residents have helped make this service possible," Maj. Baker said.

He continued, "The Salvation Army continues to grow in scope and services with the generous support and interest of the citizens of Monroe County and other cities and towns throughout the state and nation.

This year the Salvation Army will observe 99 years of service, since its founding in 1865. The first work in the Stroudsburgs was opened in April 1900 and has continued to serve the community with its various program of services.

The theme for the week-long celebration is "Service Unlimited".

Class Night At PV May 29

BRODHEADSVILLE — The Senior Class of Pleasant Valley High School will hold "Class Night" Friday, May 29, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

It is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

Poppy Days To Start Tomorrow

STROUDSBURG — Thomas P. Lambert Post 2540, VFW, Stroudsburg, and its auxiliary will sell Buddy Popples Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 22 through 24, Howard Doll, chairman of the Poppy committee said last night.

"In past years the people of the area have responded very well to Poppy sales and we are hoping for the same cooperation again this year," he said.

He continued, "Money from the sales is contributed to hospital work and the maintenance of the VFW National Home for Widows and Orphans of Veterans at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"A hospital can be a cold place without a frequent handshake, a cheery hello, and the small gift provided largely by veterans organizations who regularly visit veterans hospitals.

"It is also heartwarming to realize that one cent from the sale of each poppy goes to maintain the National Home in Michigan. Here is a place where hundreds of orphans of veterans have been housed, clothed, educated and grown to maturity as useful citizens.

"Again I ask the people in the area to lend a helping hand and to honor the dead by helping the living by purchasing a Buddy Poppy from one of the members of the post or its auxiliary during the three-day sale."

Optimists Hear Mrs. Fontanella

STROUDSBURG — Mrs. Mary Fontanella was the guest speaker Tuesday at the meeting of the Stroudsburg Optimist Club in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Her topic was, "What's Left?" She spoke of Columbus' trip to the new world, fighting the Indians, the western movement, the gold rush, the Civil War, the present and then the question "What is Left?"

She said, ". . . the beauty of sailing vessels which brought Columbus to America, the painful but glorious arrival, the feel of the earth after the long voyage . . . the gold rush and the Civil War.

She closed by asking, Who will do what is left to do? How should it be done? She said, ". . . We are the ones left, and we can do what's left by doing our best."

Pen Argyl Seniors' Schedule

PEN ARGYL — William Madden, supervising principal of Pen Argyl Area Schools, yesterday announced the calendar for the seniors in the high school for the remainder of the school term.

The schedule is as follows:

Wednesday, May 27, group pictures on the steps at the main entrance of the high school at 2:45 p.m.

Monday, June 1, 11:03 a.m. to 12:05 p.m., caps and gowns will be issued.

Monday through Wednesday, June 1 through 3, final examinations.

Thursday, June 4, class day party at Vacation Valley. Cars will leave the school at 10 a.m. and return at 10:30 p.m.

Friday, June 5, the Junior-Senior Prom in the Blue Valley Farm Show Building on the Bangor-Pen Argyl highway.

Sunday, June 7, Baccalaureate service at 7:30 p.m. in the Methodist Church.

Monday, June 11, commencement exercises at 8 p.m. Seniors will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the library.

Railroader's Body Found

CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (AP) The body of a railroad brakeman, missing after the head-on collision of two Pennsylvania Railroad freight trains, has been found beneath two derailed diesel locomotives.

Railroad officials said the body of Carl Cylvick of Elmira was discovered Saturday buried in the roots of a tree beneath the engines, which had veered off the tracks and crashed 50 feet down an embankment.

Cylvick was a member of the crew on a northbound train that collided with a southbound freight on a single track branch line between Sodus and Stanley.

James Golden of Elmira, engineer, and George Reed of Williamsport, Pa., brakemen, members of the northbound train's crew, also were killed.

The collision occurred as the two trains rounded a blind curve officials said.

Area Men Take Part In Parade

BALTIMORE, Md.—Two area men marched in the U. S. Coast Guard's Precision Drill Team Annual Loyalty Day Parade held in Springfield, Va., recently.

Seamen apprentice, Michael R. Poortstra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond P. Poortstra of 66 Brown St., East Stroudsburg and Seamen Ross E. Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gordon of Marshalls Creek were selected to march, according to Lt. (jg) Peter J. Gaizutis, officer in charge of the U. S. Coast Guard Ceremonial Honor Guard.

The parade is sponsored by the 10th District of Virginia, Veterans of Foreign Wars at Springfield, Va.

The drill team consists of the top 16 men, hand picked from the U. S. Coast Guard Ceremonial Honor Guard which performs in National Ceremonies in Washington, D. C.

Six Escape Crash Injury

BOWMANSTOWN — Six persons escaped injury in a two-car accident yesterday at 7:10 a.m. at the intersection of Rt. 895 and Rt. 29 near Bowmanstown.

Lehighton State Police said Richard A. Good, 35, of Bath, RD 2, a driver, collided with a car driven by Floyd P. Miner, 61, of Lehighton. Miner had four passengers in his car, police said.

Good failed to stop at a ramp stop sign and collided with the right side of the Miner vehicle, police said. Miner was traveling east on Rt. 895.

State Police estimate damage to both cars at $500.

Good will be charged with a violation of the vehicle code, police said.

Sheep Ethics

KROONSTAD, Free State Province, South Africa (AP)—It is not ethical to impound straying sheep on Sunday while the owner is in church, the town council decided. The case was that of a farmer who was asked to pay 28 cents a head for 300 sheep rounded up after straying onto municipal land.

CHEVY II by Chevrolet
Go on an economy drive this vacation

Sure you can just about run a Chevy II on peanuts. But don't let its economy fool you. This family car can take the whole gang along on any trip you want to make. In plenty of comfort and a whole lot of style.

Its range of power makes fun out of turnpikes and mountain roads alike. (Makes each gallon of gas work overtime, too!) Inside, a Chevy II Nova is tailored for travel. Child-proof upholstery, trip-size trunk and glove box, dual sun visors and deep-twist carpeting are just a few standard features.

That roomy, rugged Body by Fisher is as easy to look after as it is to look at. In fact, Chevy II virtually cares for itself with a battery-saving Delcotron generator, self-adjusting brakes, long-life muffler and self-cleaning rocker panels that help prevent rust by flushing out salt and other corrosives.

CHEVROLET TRADE 'N' TRAVEL TIME FOR THE GREAT HIGHWAY PERFORMERS

There's a Chevy II for everyone—sedans, wagons and sport models. A price for everyone, too. Because now is Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's. Time to get the most fun from your new car and make a great deal on your old one!

Of course you're not supposed to be so practical when you plan a vacation. But being this practical won't spoil a bit of the fun. Should add to it, in fact, for the rest of the year. And that's about fifty weeks' worth. Every year.

CD Info Center Designated

EASTON — Radio Station WEEX in Easton has been designated the official information radio service for Northampton County in the event of a serious natural disaster or a nuclear attack.

The announcement was made by Col. J. H. Brubaker, Northampton County Civil Defense Director.

The new facilities recently installed by Station WEEX includes a 430 foot tower located at its station on Paxinose Ridge; an increase of power of the AM transmitter of 1,000 watts, and a 16,000 watt FM transmitter.

These new facilities will furnish round - the-clock coverage for all sections of Northampton County. The facilities will be tied in directly by wire lines and radio to the Northampton County Control Center. This tie-in will enable broadcasters to disseminate information to all citizens of the county during disaster operations.

Pocono YF Schedules Swim Party

HOLLISTERVILLE—A swimming party on July 12, with July 19 as the rain date, was planned by Pocono Sub-district Youth Fellowship during the final business meeting of the season held at the home of Art Williams.

The party will begin at 2 p.m., and will be held at the home of Elaine Macdonough, Lake Ariel. The Lake Ariel MYF will plan refreshments for the picnic which will be a highlight of the event.

A brief business meeting will be held at the picnic to determine the first regular business meeting of the Fall season.

An appropriate number of the members from each of the nine units in the sub-district who plan to attend the picnic should be given to Mrs. Macdonough, whose telephone is OXbox 8-5053.

During the meeting, the retiring president, Howard Beauman, of Hollisterville, discussed with each new officer his or her duties in the sub-district set-up.

Present were Margaret Schaffer, Lakeville, who served as corresponding secretary this year; Donald Dickinson, vice president, Connie Keiter, faith chairman, David Dickinson and Margie Gearhart, sub-district representatives, the Rev. Denton Covert, Terry Baughan, Peggy Bancroft, sub-district advisor, all from Greentown - Newfoundland - South Sterling; John Beers, corresponding secretary; Marion Richards, local advisor. Doris Croom, district representative, Sharon Davies, sub-district representative, John Bowser and David Smalles, MYF representatives, all from Moscow; Howard Beauman, retiring president, Art Williams, district representative, both of Hollisterville; Donna Dolan, treasurer and Cheryl Crossman, recording secretary, Mrs. Bernice Dolan, all of Sterling; Robert Peters, president; Cindy Samson, local representative, and Ginger Parke, retiring faith chairman, all of Lake Ariel,

Rev. Fulmer On Pulpit

NEWFOUNDLAND — "The Pentecostal Power" was the theme used by the Rev. Dr. Frederick G. Fulmer, retired Moravian minister, during morning worship at the Waymart and Forest City Presbyterian Churches. His Junior sermonette at Waymart was "Finding God."

Dr. and Mrs. Fulmer returned recently from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Habicht, of Willow Grove.

Laurel Queen Crowning At Split Rock June 17

LAKE HARMONY — The 14th annual Laurel Festival, conducted in the Western Poconos as a tribute to Pennsylvania's official state flower will be held in mid - June at Split Rock Lodge Lake Harmony.

Highlight of the week-long salute will be the coronation of a "Laurel Queen" on Wednesday, June 17, at Split Rock.

This year's growth of the lovely mountain flower abounds in remarkable profusion throughout the 31,000 - acre estate of Split Rock. Aided by a generous run of sunshiny days and normal rainfall, the show of nature's best in spring fashions will be at its peak during the crowning, according to W. D. Herrmann, president of Split Rock.

"It is well worth anyone's time to plan a trip to the Poconos at this period of the year," Herrmann said.

Sherry Palafox of Baltimore, Md., the 1963 Laurel Festival Queen, has been invited to preside at the coronation of her successor.

Spring activities, including trout fishing on the Tunkhannock and the Tobyhanna, are now in full swing at Split Rock and in the Western Poconos.

Tennis, hiking, bicycling, horseback riding, archery, outdoor shuffleboard, volleyball, badminton, basketball and baseball are other favored sports currently. Sailing, canoeing and boating on spring - fed Lake Harmony are popular, too.

The Pocono Skeet Shooting Assn. conducted its first annual spring member - guest championship shoot at Split Rock May 15, 16 and 17. Latham E. Osborne of Pittsburgh, president of the association, reported a record attendance of outstanding skeet shooters from the Middle Atlantic States.

Four Hubcaps Pilfered

STROUDSBURG — The theft of four hubcaps from Weichel Buick, 1009 W. Main St., is under investigation by Stroudsburg police.

The caps, valued at $44, were taken from a car parked in the Weichel lot. The theft occurred sometime between Friday and last Monday, when the theft was discovered.

Grey Mare's Missing

SAYLORSBURG — If anyone spots a dapple grey mare bounding along the streets in the west end of Monroe County, contact Mrs. Robert Imel of Saylorsburg, RD 1.

Mrs. Imel said her grey mare broke loose Tuesday at 12:30 a.m. and, except for a sketchy report, has not been heard from since.

The horse was reported almost hit by a truck yesterday on Rt. 115 in Effort.

Mrs. Imel said her husband and son have scoured the area looking for the mare, that is apparently well hidden.

Hachtman Bangor VFW Post Visitor

BANGOR — Robert L. Hachtman of Stroudsburg, special district commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was a recent guest at a meeting of Dyle E. Bray Post 739, VFW, in Bangor.

Nelson Serfass was installed as commander of the post.

Joseph Davanzo was installed as senior vice commander; James Letson, junior vice commander; Russell Reagle, quartermaster; John Pellechia, patriotic instructor; James Nicholas, chaplain; Ethelbert Seal, trustee, and Woodrow Counterman, color guard. James Swan was the installing officer. Walter Warrick had charge of the meeting.

Announcement was made of the department commander's visit to the Easton post. The next 20th district meeting will be held June 7 in Nazareth.

Moth Spraying Halted By Winds

STROUDSBURG — Winds up to 20 MPH hampered efforts yesterday to continue aerial spraying of Gypsy Moth infested areas.

The spraying will continue today at daybreak, if the weather conditions are favorable, said Arthur Jeffries of the State Department of Agriculture.

Paupack High To Start Instrumental Program

HAWLEY — The Wallenpaupack Area High School Summer Instrumental Program starts with registration Monday, June 15, in the band room of the high school.

Registration will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and is for all students who wish to participate, those who wish to start and those already playing.

The program is open to all students from next year's fourth grade through 12th grade. Adults may also participate in the concert and dance bands rehearsals scheduled for Tuesday evenings. The first general rehearsals for these groups will be on Tuesday, June 23 starting at 7:30 p. m. in the band room.

Stringed instruments such as violin, viola, cello, and bass violin, as well as band instruments will be included in this program.

A special effort is being made to start as many stringed instruments as possible in order that an orchestra might be started in the near future.

The program is designed for elementary students to begin musical training. There is no charge for this instruction other than the fee required for the rental of an instrument. Every effort will be made to arrange practice schedules for the convenience of the participant.

Instruments will be on display all day on June 15, and a representative will be here to explain to parents how students may use the rental plan on all the instruments.

Applications sent out by the school must be returned by Friday's May 29, to the Music Department, Summer Instrumental Program.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Thursday, May 21, 1964

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Avoid a tendency to slow up in some areas, quicken your pace unwarrantedly in others. Aim for steadiness. Keep facts separated from fancy; details exact.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Fine influences from several planets. Aim for early attainment, planned in your usual orderly fashion, but do not reject the novel and unfamiliar if it seems to have merit. Innovations could lead to quicker progress.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Hold the line against needless hustle and bustle, scattering energies. You can accomplish a great deal if you concentrate on reasonable goals and maintain an even pace.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — If pressed for time, you may overlook vitally necessary details. Be alert to this, since carelessness could cause needless errors. In general, a day for you to relish.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Having the right answers at the right time will count heavily now. Display skills so as to attract greater opportunity. You can make new and important strides during this period.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Advancement may be fractional, but this is normal occasionally. Just remain constant, steady at the wheel. Be sure your energies and talents are directed into constructive channels.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Especially favored now: students, instructors; business matters on the whole; sports; art work; travel. This should be a day of great achievement for most Librans.

October 23 to November 22 (Scorpio) — In home affairs or outside matters, dot the I's and cross the t's, heed all the "little" things. THEN you can make progress.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — Your intuition, plus practical skill, can help you stay on top, evaluate -- and solve - problems more easily. Business interests favored.

December 23 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Mixed, and many matters seem to need attention. Take sufficient time, do NOT become flustered and Do know exactly what you are about. Shun excitement.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — New methods, policies indicated to sensible accordance with requirements should go over well now. Be considerations about about holding to your end of a bargain.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — A "clean-cut scholar" WILL be late for learning -- and earnings. Put aside doubt and dig into whatever you can to produce, and better your standing.

YOU BORN TODAY are lively, interested in life people, progressive undertakings; can be outstandingly clever, and gain ground quickly while many others are "still thinking." You can think, act, and react all at the same time. Original and independent, you can, nevertheless, also see others' plans and improve upon them. Curb emotions and extravagance and DO avoid impulsiveness. Self - control breeds strong inner power. Is a stepping - stone to topmost attainment. Birthdate of: Alexander Pope, poet.

In Memoriam 5

REIMER—In loving memory of my husband, Russell S. Reimer, who passed away 1 year ago, May 21, 1963.
Just when his days seemed brightest.
Just when his hope seemed best.
God called him from amongst us to his eternal rest.
Sadly missed but God knows best.

The Daily Record's annual "In Memoriam" special feature will be published Friday, May 29th.

"In Memoriam" has been published the day before Memorial Day the past six years.

Each year many families, friends and organizations honor and reserve the memory of loved ones in this modern dignified manner.

All names are listed alphabetically and the names of veterans are preceded by a star.

Since no "In Memoriam" tributes can be accepted after Monday, May 25th, we urge you to mail us your instructions this week.

"In Memoriam" tributes can be mailed to The Daily Record, 511 Lenox St., Stroudsburg, or you may call us if you require special help or instructions.

DIAL 421-3000 or 421-7349.
ASK FOR MRS. FRANTZ

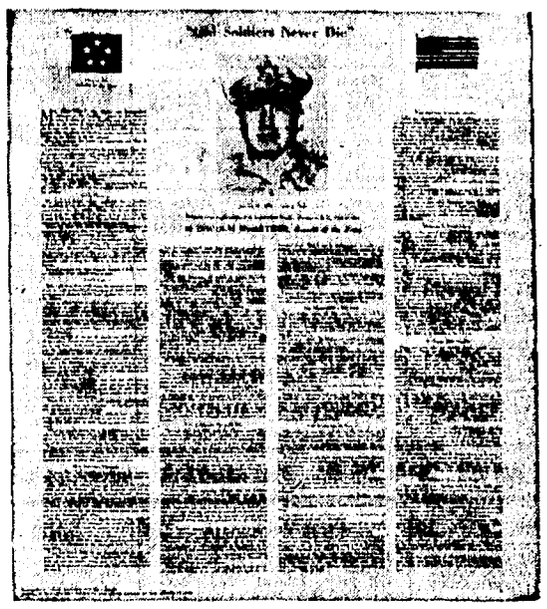
Convenient mail forms and full instructions will be published in The Daily Record each day this week.

A SPECIAL COMMEMORATIVE

Americana Historical Document

HEAVY, ANTIQUE PARCHMENT

SUITABLE FOR FRAMING



A Memorial to General Douglas MacArthur, his speech before Congress upon his return from Korea, on heavy, antiqued parchment suitable for framing . . . is yours now at The Daily Record and nowhere else for only 25c each at our service desk or 30c each by mail. A coupon is included below for convenience in mail ordering. This parchment document looks old and feels old. It's magnificent . . . with the General's inscribed photograph, his 5-star general's flag and the United States flag. Because everyone who loves Americana, and who loves America's heroic history will want a copy of this document for framing, The Daily Record offers it as a not-for-profit, public service. THIS is a Daily Record want ad. It's one of the oldest forms of advertising still in use today.

The BIG Buy!

This is a three-line classified ad.

It costs Daily Record advertisers $3.36 for this ad on the weekly, 7-time rate. That figures out to only 48c per day!

It's not very big in size. It's not very imposing. And it doesn't cost very much as you can see. In fact, it looks pretty lonesome up there all by itself. But look at it this way.

What you get when you buy a three-line ad in The Daily Record is not just a single ad on one of the want ad pages. You've actually bought 10,150 copies of your three-line ad. And the price includes personal delivery of each copy to the reader's doorstep.

Just imagine the cost of reaching all those Daily Record families by post card. Why the postage alone would be $406.00! But The Daily Record does it all for you for a measly 48c per day. (For only $3.36 we'll do it seven times straight!)

So you can see this little want ad is really a pretty BIG buy!

Slate Belt Area Beams Over Success Of Yellow Jackets

By JIM SHAFER
Daily Record Reporter

BANGOR — The Slate Belt has many things laced and one special one is the Yellow Jackets Drum and Bugle Corps.

It was organized in 1926 by members of the Emlyn H. Evans Post 378, American Legion, in Bangor.

"We worked hard with one thing in mind, and that was being good enough to make the people of the area proud of us and to bring home a championship corps," an original member of the corps said.

Six years after the organization was formed, in 1926, the corps came home with its first Department of Pennsylvania, American Legion Championship.

With continued effort and practice the members of the corps returned home in 1939 from state competition with the Class A State, American Legion Championship.

Then came World War II and many members of the corps entered the service of his country, and the corps was deactivated. In 1947, two years after World War II, the corps was re-activated. The corps began to appear again in various programs throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Traveling Group

During the period of 1947 to 1953 the corps won many honors and prizes, but it wasn't until 1953 that the unit traveled to Pittsburgh to compete and initiate the present unit in stiff competition.

In 1954 the unit won the Interstate Circuit Championship and was invited to participate in competition with the nation's most respected drum and bugle corps.

During 1955 and 1956 the corps traveled to New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland and Pennsylvania to present its talent to thousands of spectators. Many honors were won by the unit at these events.

Then during 1957 and 1958 the Yellow Jackets came home with the State Championships.

At present there are 60 men in the unit. They come from many nearby communities of the Slate Belt, as well as the Slate Belt.

There are 18 members in the color guard and two drum majors. The balance are drummers, buglers and French horn players.

Membership in the unit is open to all male members over 16 years of age. Anyone wishing to join the unit should contact Ray Wiedlich or James Prime. The unit meets every Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion home in Bangor and holds practice sessions on Sunday, weather permitting, at the Capitol Plaza on the Bangor-Pen Argyl Highway.

"The marching men in gold and white will continue to carry on the drum and bugle corps tradition and we welcome anyone who is interested in joining us to help make us a bigger and better corps," Dave King, publicity man for the corps said.

Jaycee Candidates Feted

EAST STROUDSBURG — The Pocono Mountain Junior Chamber of Commerce held its annual membership picnic last night at the home of Atty. Edwin Krawitz.

Philip M. Fleiss, membership chairman, conducted the meeting that was attended by 16 prospective members.

Raymond Roberts, a Jaycee International senator, conducted the indoctrination address. He pointed out the satisfaction Jaycee members receive when they become part of a Jaycee-sponsored community project.

Roberts explained the purpose and ideals of the Jaycees. He also noted many well - known public figures have parised Jaycees for the many difficult tasks they have undertaken.

Guests were Robert Brands, William Landry, Herbert Mednick, Larry Greenstein, Donald Bentzoni, Michael Miller, Jeffery Cox, Dick Campeotta, Atty. Samuel Newman and Walter Peeney.

The Jaycees were honored yesterday on the Sally Ferrebee Show on radio station WVPO for their work in behalf of the Burnley Sheltered Workshop. The organization is raising $50,000 for the project.

Miss Hester Picked For Institute

AURORA, N.Y. — Miss Joan C. Hester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allison A. Hester of Chipperfield Dr., Stroudsburg, RD 1 has been chosen one of 45 secondary school teachers of French to attend a summer Language Institute at Wells College, Aurora, N.Y., from July 3 to August 15.

Miss Hester is a teacher at the Islip High School in Islip, Long Island, N.Y. She is a graduate of Stroud Union High School and East Stroudsburg State College.

The institute is under the National Defense Education Act, in cooperation with the U.S. Office of Education. The purpose of the Institute is to give participants an opportunity to increase their language skills and their effectiveness as language teachers.

In line with the policy of the NDEA, in selecting individuals for attendance at the Institute and in otherwise conducting the Institute, Wells College does not discriminate on account of sex, race, creed, color, or national orgin of an applicant or an enrollee.

The staff will be language experts, native speakers, and guest lecturers, chosen from the Wells faculty and several other colleges and universities.

Parsonage Dedicated

PEN ARGYL — The cornerstone of the new parsonage of Zion Methodist Church in Pen Argyl was laid at a ceremony early this week.

Rev. Robert E. Sheesley, pastor of the church, presided. Arthur Stoffiet, president of the board of trustees of the church placed a copy of the blueprint for the parsonage and copies of the contracts and agreements in the cornerstone.

The blueprints call for a two-story brick and aluminum siding house, with a kitchen, dining and living rooms, laundry and bath and two car garage on the ground floor, and four bedrooms and two bathrooms on the second floor.

A meeting rooms, reception room and study will be located in the basement. The contract calls for completion of construction by Sept. 15, but church officials believe the house will be ready for occupancy before that time.

The house is located on the southwest corner of the intersection of Plainfield and Westbrook Avenues. The present parsonage at 26 S. Westbrook Ave. will be sold, it was announced.

School Dedication Sunday

HAWLEY — The new Wallenpaupack Area Joint High School, Hawley, will be dedicated on Sunday afternoon, May 24, 1964, at 2:30 p.m.

Roger M. Blough, chairman of the Board of Directors of United States Steel, will give the dedicatory address.

Blough maintains a residence in Hawley and is a former principal of the Hawley High School.

Maurice H. Bobst, Supervising Principal, will deliver a welcoming address and introduce the guests.

Lee Everett of Everett Associates, Allentown, architects of the school, will present the key for the building. It will be accepted by Russell Lange, chairman of the Wayne - Pike Joint School Authority; Dr. Richard Porter, president of the Wallenpaupack School Board; and Daniel Callaghan, Principal.

The program will be held in the auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

If you intend to buy 5 or more tickets during the Season, it would pay you to become A SUBSCRIBING PATRON by taking advantage of our UNIQUE SUBSCRIPTION OFFER.

5 Reservation Subscription: $15. (same as group rate)
10 Reservation Subscription: $29. (less than group rate)
(Must Be Purchased Before June 7th)
All tickets for all performances at Box Office: $3.30

Our subscriptions do not confine you to any one night for any shows in advance. Rather, you are purchasing the equivalent of 5 or 10 blank tickets at a premium to be used whenever you decide. For example, if you have purchased a 10 Reservation Subscription, you may decide to attend Friday Night's performance of THE MERRY WIDOW and wish to bring two friends with you. You merely call the Box Office to secure your seats and present your subscription at the Box Office when you pick up your tickets. This will leave you with 7 reservations to distribute as you may wish among the remainder of the Season's performances.

We hope you will fill out the stub at the bottom of this page and mail it immediately so that we may list your name in our program as a SUBSCRIBING PATRON.
